

Decision Due Soon On Soft Coal Wage

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government was reported about ready today to issue a decision on the soft coal wage case.

Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam was believed to have talked to John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, and it was considered possible that Steelman already had on his desk the Putnam decision. Whether the White House or Putnam would make the official announcement was not known.

Protest Strike Certain
Putnam was asked by John L. Lewis and the soft coal industry to approve the $1.90 daily pay boost they negotiated in September. The Wage Stabilization Board reduced that to $1.50 and said that any more would be inflationary and would jeopardize the stabilization program.

Public members of the WSB were reliably reported over the week end to have told Putnam they would resign if the approved the full $1.90. This, coupled with the fact Putnam tried hard to get

Lewis and the industry to accept a compromise pay plan, indicated Putnam might turn down the appeal, at least in part.

A nation-wide soft coal "protest" strike was seen as a virtual certainty if the final decision should uphold the WSB ruling.

White House May Act
Some observers saw a strong possibility that the White House, because of the strike threat, might okay the full $1.90 no matter what Putnam himself recommends.

The wage case has now been before Putnam for more than a month. Early last week he said he had every hope of announcing his decision by last Saturday. The fact that he did not was considered evidence that his decision may have encountered White House opposition.

Meanwhile, talk of possible government decontrol action persisted despite denials from official quarters. A decision to embark on a slow decontrol program, if one is being considered, could well solve the coal wage dispute.

Party Leaders OK Choices By President-Elect

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower's newest appointments, like his earlier ones, have brought general applause from Republican leaders and even some Democrats and promises of co-operation from the Democratic incumbents.

The latest choices, announced yesterday, are GOP National Chairman Arthur Summerfield to be postmaster general in the Eisenhower cabinet and two women to noncabinet posts—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston as head of the Federal Security Agency and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest of Bountiful, Utah, as treasurer of the United States.

Approval Assured
This makes a total of 11 appointments by Eisenhower to date, seven to cabinet positions.

Besides Summerfield, the other cabinet officers—subject to almost certain Senate approval—are John Foster Dulles as secretary of state, Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense, George M. Humphrey as secretary of the Treasury, Herbert Brownell as attorney general, Oregon's Gov. Douglas McKay as secretary of interior and Ezra Taft Benson as secretary of agriculture.

Also named are former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota as mutual security administrator and Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire as assistant to the President.

Two More Left
The two other cabinet members, the secretaries of commerce and labor, have yet to be designated. Republican Sens. Watkins of Utah, Welker of Idaho and Hickenlooper of Iowa, as well as Democratic Rep. Albert Thomas of Texas, were among the first to comment on yesterday's appointments.

Justice Department's Laxity Criticized By House Investigators

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators came out today with what they called a "shocking example" of poor administrative work within the Justice Department. They suggested more "vigorous top direction" to prevent recurrences.

But for a change, the Justice Department was not held wholly to blame.

Detroit Case Cited
In the sixth of a continuing series of reports, a House Judiciary subcommittee detailed the case of Norman E. Miller, Detroit industrial engineer, as an example of the delays and frustrations sometimes besetting officials.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Chelf (D-Ky.), has been sharply critical of the Justice Department and its officials in past reports.

In its current finding, a followup on public hearings earlier this year, the investigators put the primary blame on a taxpayer, Miller, and his techniques for avoiding prosecution in a war contract case. The government, they said, lost by default.

Stalled for 8 Years
Miller was indicted in 1944 on charges of defrauding the government in connection with work for war contractors. After what the subcommittee termed eight years of "stalling and subterfuge," both criminal and civil actions against Miller were dropped.

Although picking out the case as an illustration of "all the problems that confront department attorneys," the investigators said the record was "in fact highly creditable to some who did their best to avoid its sorry outcome."

The criminal charge against Miller, involving $14,000, was dropped in October, 1950, and the civil action, involving $36,800, in January, 1951.

The litigation extended through the regimes of four attorneys general, and the final outcome "doubtless reflected sheer frustration" on the part of federal attorneys in Detroit to bring the case to trial, the report said.

The House investigators said of the three chief witnesses, one died, one was confined briefly in a mental institution and one ensnared in a bigamy charge.

"It is strongly implied," the report stated, "that Miller 'framed' the man who was incarcerated and conducted the investigation which exposed the bigamist."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration will be sort of like an average American family in one way—women will handle much of the money.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby has been named head of a federal agency which includes the world's largest insurance agency, and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest will be signing the paper currency—the nation's folding money.

President-elect Eisenhower has named Mrs. Hobby of Houston, Tex., as administrator of the Federal Security Agency and Mrs. Priest of Bountiful, Utah, as treasurer of the United States. Both are 47.

Signs Greenbacks
Eisenhower, in announcing Mrs. Hobby's designation to succeed Oscar Ewing, said she would attend Cabinet meetings because of the importance of her post. Ewing on occasion was invited to such meetings by President Truman, but he did not attend regularly.

Mrs. Priest as treasurer will succeed Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark of Richmond, Kan., the first woman to be Uncle Sam's purse-string custodian. She will be charged with the receipt, disbursement and accounting of public moneys. Her signature will appear on all greenbacks from $1 up.

Eisenhower's inclusion of Mrs. Hobby at Cabinet meetings gave rise to renewed speculation that the Republicans may be planning to push the Hoover Commission recommendation that a new Cabinet be created to include the variety of activities now in the Federal Security Agency.

Republican women leaders are known to have their eye on this as a likely Cabinet post for a woman. Only one other woman, Frances Perkins, has served in the Cabinet. She was secretary of labor in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

Trust Fund In Billions
Mrs. Hobby will become a trustee of one of the largest trust funds in the world—about 17 billion dollars held for those covered under the old age and survivors insurance program.

In addition Mrs. Hobby will have the over-all administration of the Office of Education, and a variety of other welfare agencies, such as the Public Health Service, Food and Drug Administration, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Mrs. Priest will have the responsibility of seeing that the Treasury issues its daily and monthly statements on the government's financial standing. She will sign government checks and see that the interest and principal is paid on public debts.

Flint GOP Boss Ready To Take Over U. S. Mail

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Committee Chairman Arthur E. Summerfield today began squaring away for a new assignment—the postmaster generalship in the Eisenhower administration.

His appointment to the cabinet was announced late yesterday by President-elect Eisenhower.

Summerfield, 53-year-old highly successful automobile dealer at Flint, Mich., promptly called a news conference here. He announced he will step down from the party chairmanship—although the jobs of party chairman and postmaster general have been frequently combined—in order to devote full attention to the mail service.

Gives Up Business
"Subject to confirmation by the Senate," he said, "I will undertake the duties of postmaster general with full vigor and with all the knowledge and enthusiasm which I possess."

"The improvement of all branches of the department and the increase of its morale will be my paramount objectives in the public interest."

In response to questions, Summerfield said his business interests include a couple of directorships in insurance companies, plus a number of companies in which he either owns whole or controlling interest. Principal among these is the Summerfield Chevrolet Company at Flint, one of the largest retail automobile agencies in America.

He said, however, he plans to disassociate himself from all active participation in private business.

Has 500,000 Employees
When a reporter asked if the Post Office Department does not purchase large quantities of automotive equipment, Summerfield, chubby, pink-faced and good-humored—joined in a roar of laughter across the room and answered chuckling:

"Yes, I am aware of that."

The new appointee announced he will assemble the Republican committee around inauguration time, Jan. 20, to accept his resignation.

Alger Recount Word Awaited

LANSING (AP)—Apparently at the request of Fred M. Alger, Jr., the Republican gubernatorial candidate, the State Board of Canvassers delayed until 4:30 p. m. today its formal announcement of the winner in the Nov. 4 election race for governor.

It was reliably reported that Alger may not make a decision until Friday whether to ask for a recount of his 8,618 vote defeat by Governor Williams.

The board was scheduled to meet at 10:30 a. m. today to declare the winner. The 48 hour legal period allowed for filing a recount would then begin.

Governor Williams told his press conference that Alger telephoned him from Detroit last night and asked him to agree to delay the certification of the winner until Friday.

Detroit Gangster Cases In Court
DETROIT (AP)—Two top names in Detroit's prohibition-era gangster days faced different treatment from the U. S. government today.

Denaturalization proceedings were ordered started by attorney General McGranery in Washington against Peter Corrado. Deportation to his native Italy was the goal.

In Detroit, Federal Judge Frank A. Picard ruled that Joseph Catalano should not be deported, also to Italy, because of his conviction and sentence to terms totaling nine years and eight months for possession of narcotics.

Corrado, now 49 and a resident of Grose Point Park, will be proceeded against either today or Friday in Federal court in Detroit, McGranery said, adding that the action would be a part of the Justice Department's program to rid the country of what the attorney general called "undesirables who have engaged in racketeering or other criminal activities."

Corrado, a native of Terresine, Italy, obtained his American citizenship in Brooklyn in 1931, and the Justice Department claims that he swore then he had not been arrested, whereas record show "at that time he had a record of 16 arrests."

Catalano, who is 52 and was described at his trial here as the mysterious "old man" of the Midwest dope racket, came to Detroit in 1920.

Former Farmer, 58, New U. S. Steel Head Succeeding Fairless
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Clifford F. Hood, 58, who says he would be an Illinois farmer but for the persuasion of a young engineering friend, will become president of the world's largest steel producing company Jan. 1.

United States Steel Corporation's board of directors elected Hood to the top post Tuesday at a meeting in New York. He is now executive vice president in charge of production of the subsidiary United States Steel Co.

Hood succeeds Benjamin F. Fairless, who will continue as chairman of the board and chief executive officer of U. S. Steel Corp.

The new president was born on a farm near Monmouth, Ill. A young engineer got him interested in industrial work, he says, or he would still be working on his father's farm.

Top Jobs Given To Two Women By Eisenhower

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower neared the end of his designations for top-level government offices today, declaring that more high positions will be assigned to women administrators.

He has named the seventh member of the normally nine-man cabinet.

More To Come
And along with that designation, he announced yesterday that he will propose the names of two women—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest of Bountiful, Utah—for administrative offices in the government he is forming.

Mrs. Hobby was named to head the Federal Security Agency and Mrs. Priest as treasurer of the United States.

These, he said in a formal announcement, are "the first of other appointments of women in the coming administration."

The designation for the cabinet was Arthur E. Summerfield of Flint, Mich., for postmaster general. Summerfield is chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Talks About Korea
Only two cabinet posts now remain: the secretaries of commerce and labor. There has been no indication at the general's headquarters as to his choices.

He has an appointment today with Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, one of his early backers in the fight for the presidency and the man who nominated him for the office at the GOP convention in July.

There has been speculation that McKeldin may get one of the two remaining cabinet positions. The governor, however, said yesterday his appointment with Eisenhower is only a friendly call and has no other significance.

Eisenhower also called in today an official who can tell him a good deal about Korea—Mrs. Anna Rosenberg.

Plans Kept Secret
Mrs. Rosenberg is assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower. She has been in the war zone within the past two weeks.

Her name on Eisenhower's list of visitors gave rise to speculation that she might be one of the women he has in mind for the "other appointments." His aides, however, said they have no information about the reason for the conference.

Nor was there any indication today when Eisenhower himself would leave on his trip to Korea. Security measures are covering all details of his departure from New York.

McCormick Sounds Off
Meanwhile, one of Eisenhower's cabinet designations brought a blast of criticism from Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

Speaking last night in New Haven, Conn., before the Yale Political Union, a student group, McCormick attacked the selection of John Foster Dulles as the next

Kansas And Nebraska Tied Up In Blizzard

By The Associated Press

Wind-whipped snow clamped an icy grip over wide sections of the Midlands today, stranding travelers, closing schools and blocking roads.

At least six deaths were attributed to storm conditions. Almost a foot of snow was recorded in some towns.

Winds Whip Drifts
Kansas and Nebraska, where blizzard conditions prevailed in some areas yesterday, apparently felt the greatest impact of the storm.

But parts of Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, Oklahoma and Texas also got their share of snow. The snow eased off during the night in most of the states but the Weather Bureau said it probably would continue in Minnesota and Iowa throughout today.

Winds, however, piled up drifts that hampered city traffic and virtually halted highway travel in some places.

The Kansas National Guard turned out to aid stranded motorists.

At Wichita, hundreds of cars were reported snowbound along highways near the city. More than 150 persons were rescued during the night. Red Cross and Salvation Army workers aided in feeding and housing them.

Schools Closed
Other marooned travelers sought shelter in farm houses.

Public transportation in Wichita, a South-Central Kansas city of 170,000, was suspended last night. Schools were closed until Monday. Electric service was interrupted.

The storm piled almost a foot of snow on Western and Central Kansas. In McPherson, hotels were packed and stranded travelers were even sheltered in the City Auditorium.

Near Liberal, a busload of Kansas university band musicians was reported marooned in a snow drift. Hundreds of persons also were stranded in the area of Hutchinson area.

Michigan Gets Winter Sample
(By The Associated Press)
High winds ranging up to 45 miles an hour swept into Michigan Wednesday bringing the state its first taste of winter weather.

The Weather Bureau said the winds would bring heavy snows to the western portion of the Upper Peninsula Wednesday night and snow flurries to the remainder of the state.

Colder temperatures also were carried in by the high winds. Thermometers were expected to drop from a high of 35 degrees Wednesday afternoon to a low of 22 Wednesday night. Colder temperatures were forecast for Thanksgiving Day.

Hus' nd Cuffs Wife, Gets Year In Prison From Pontiac Judge
PONTIAC (AP)—Arthur W. Czarniawski, 23, will have the next year in which to lament a fit of temper in which he cuffed and flung his wife about.

A year in prison is what Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick gave Czarniawski yesterday after hearing how his wife, Ruth, was hospitalized with a broken jaw and two fractured arms.

Czarniawski, who lived in Hazel Park, admitted beating his wife Nov. 15 "because she didn't know how to run the house."

House Committee To Revive Hunt For Reds In Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—An investigation of communism in government is expected to be the first order of business of the House Committee on Un-American Activities in the new GOP-controlled Congress.

Rep. Velde (R-Ill.), slated to become committee chairman in January, said the Communists-in-government probe would have priority, with investigations of Red influences in labor and education coming next.

Duty As Watchdog
"Subject to the views of the other committee members, our first duty will be to co-operate with the new President, and especially with the attorney general, in determining whether Communists, or pinks, or any subversives are on the payroll of the executive department of government," he told a reporter.

"Our next duty will be to function as a watchdog against the infiltration of subversives in the new administration. The Communists always attempt to infiltrate the political party and administration in power."

Velde, a former FBI agent, said he felt the committee should maintain a constant check to make certain that "no offshoots of Americans" find a place on government payrolls.

Communists In Schools
Coming early in the committee activities, possibly "simultaneously with our activities against Communists in the federal government," Velde said, will be further investigation of any communism in the labor movement.

The committee for the past year or two has been inquiring into the extent of Communist infiltration into defense industry through labor unions.

Velde said he thought the committee should "go ahead and expand our investigation" in this direction with particular emphasis on what he said were Communist-controlled or dominated labor unions.

The committee probably also will investigate Communist influences in education.

He said investigation has shown Communists in the school system of the country, and there are "still Communist influences in every university in the country."

Velde said that "less emphasis" probably would be placed on the committee's long-standing study of Communists in the movie industry.

Pontiac Pair Held For Firing Shotgun Through A Window
PONTIAC (AP)—Pleading innocent to careless use of firearms, two Pontiac young men were ordered held for trial under $1,000 bonds today after their arraignment yesterday. They are: Joseph F. Warren, 24, and Billy J. Jones, 25.

They were accused of firing a shotgun through the window of Mrs. Maggie O. Hall's home on the night of Nov. 17, when vandals fired blasts into six homes and four businesses.

Police said they found shotgun shells in the men's car which fitted a gun owned by Warren's brother-in-law, Christian Theis, of Pontiac. Warren lives with Theis, who told police the gun could have been taken without his knowledge.

Spree On $5400 Ends In Prison

BALTIMORE (AP)—A former OPA investigator who went on a spree with $5,400 and wound up a week later in the gutter with 37 cents was sentenced to three years in prison yesterday.

William T. Rinn, 47, admitted in court that he stole the money from a Baltimore cab company office where he was cashier. He said he spent a good share of it on a party that moved from Baltimore through Ocean City and Salisbury, on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

More than $1,500 of the money was returned to the cab company before the spree ended, it was testified.

NLRB Charges Local Firm With Unfair Practice

In a recent decision handed down by the National Labor Relations Board, three men discharged by the Harnischfeger Corporation plant in Escanaba were found not guilty of inciting an illegal riot as charged by the company.

The ruling was dated Nov. 12 and was received here last week by Maurice Harrison, head of Local 632 UAW of the CIO. The facts of the case were presented to the NLRB in a hearing held here in July.

The decision, moreover, charged the company with using an unfair labor practice by discriminating against workers because of union membership in violation of the National Labor Relations Act, Harrison stated.

Company Readying Appeal
In response to the ruling, the Harnischfeger Corporation is preparing a defense argument contesting the decision as it permitted it under an NLRB provision. It was given 20 days in which to file an appeal on the case.

According to the terms of the decision, the three men, John Connelly of Escanaba and Austin Ohlen and Charles Wheatley of Gladstone, were granted full reinstatement with the company paying the difference between what they have earned since they have been off the Harnischfeger payroll and what they would have earned had they been employed there up to the present time.

It was the NLRB's contention that the walkout was a legal one since there was no contract in effect at the time and that the strike was due to a feeling of unrest brought by slow progress of negotiation rather than the actions of any individual workers, according to the local union chief.

The employees of the Harnischfeger truck crane and welder plant walked off their jobs Sept. 13, 1951 to attend a union meeting, Harrison explained. They also walked out the following day in protest over the discharge of the three men resulting from the walkout of the previous day. The union voted to return to work the following Monday and resume negotiations.

Discharged For "Misconduct"
With a new contract being signed a week later, the case of the dismissal of the three men was filed by the union with the NLRB.

In another aspect of the case, the Harnischfeger Corporation is currently appealing to Delta county Circuit Court a ruling of the Michigan Employment Security Commission that the men are entitled to unemployment benefits from the time they were dismissed by the firm. They are charging that the discharged men are disqualified from compensation because they were let go for reasons of misconduct. Under an MESC act, persons so dismissed are not eligible for unemployment benefits.

The company is asking the civil court to adjudicate the case as it involves this interpretation of the facts.

The case will be heard in Circuit Court either during a special session next month or in the February term of court which opens Feb. 9.

Life In Hunting Camp Is Interesting Experience

By MRS. RICHARD CAMPBELL
(Rock Correspondent)

Arrival of Thanksgiving will be a welcome day for many hunters' wives, who to now have been living the life of a hunter's widow or who have been patiently awaiting the day when their husband will get a little more time to indulge his buck fever.

As you probably know, Nov. 14 is a big day for hunting enthusiasts all over Michigan.

It's the day when the deer hunters pack their hunting gear, buy enough groceries to feed an army, load all these, and many more articles, into their jeeps and trucks and what have you, and take off for hunting camps. All this preparation and hustling around is a prelude to the opening day of the deer hunting season—November 15.

Herb Westlund's Red Top Camp, located near Rock, is typical of the activity which takes place at most camps in this area from November 15 to Dec. 1.

Camp Has Power Plant
The Red Top Camp is built of hemlock lumber with paper siding and a red paper roof, which gives the camp its name. Although the camp is miles from the power line it is equipped with electric lights. This is made possible by a small power plant made from a gasoline mower motor.

Thanks to this machine, electric shavers and movies shown on a one cylinder projector are not uncommon at the camp.

The hunting party at the Red Top this year included Clifford Carlson, Joe Nauer, Andy Sayen, Leslie Viitala, Charles Carlson, Eino Kivela, Herb and Bill Westlund of Rock, Albert Sayen of Madison, Wis., and Elmer Hennig and Bob Marbury of Chicago.

With 11 men sharing one camp, there isn't room left for any dull moments, and occupants don't waste their time sleeping. At 6:00 a.m. everyone is up, and after a number of healthy yawns and some elaborate stretching, there's a mad scramble for breakfast.

Everyone digs in with the chores and in a short time a breakfast of eggs, bacon or ham, pancakes, coffee, and potatoes is on the table. Dishes are done up in a flash, and then the hunters hit the brush.

Most of the time they pair off and head for their favorite hunting sites. At noon they are back at camp for lunch and if any bucks have been bagged they proceed to drag them in.

"All In" at Midnight

Supper at the camp is served anywhere from 7 to 9:00 p. m. Card games are a favorite pastime in the evening, and to keep in touch with the outside world, the radio is tuned in. True experiences are often related by old timers, with a few tall tales added for good measure. By midnight the gang is ready to call it a day and everyone "hit the hay."

"Buck fever" is usually prevalent among the men and this year (the first time in many) one member of the party became lost. However, after an exchange of Tarzan's famous calls the lost hunter was soon guided back to familiar ground.

Precautionary measures are always put in practice and have always paid off. Loaded guns inside the camp are taboo. To date no hunting casualties have ever been suffered by any of the men at the Red Top Camp.

Although hunting trophies this year included only five racks of antlers, the hunters will leave the camp richer in hunting experience and looking forward to next year when they can again mix their hunting business with camping pleasure.

As they return, with a swag and a satisfied face, often for Thanksgiving, wives again ponder the lure of the woods and the annual hunting expedition. That is, if they don't hunt with their husbands.

Delta Youth Will Attend 4-H Meet

John Whybrew, outstanding 4-H club youth from North Delta, will leave Friday for the 31st National 4-H Club Congress to be held in Chicago Nov. 29 to Dec. 5. Selected as a delegate to the annual congress because of his exceptional achievements in six phases of club work, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Whybrew, will be one of three delegates from the Upper Peninsula.

Cited For Dairy Work

His achievement record shows prize-winning work in seven years of dairy cattle raising, the phase of 4-H work in which he has gained special recognition, according to the Delta 4-H office. He has also had seven years of garden club work, six years of handicraft, three years each of conservation and health and safety work, and two years of junior leadership training.

As a delegate to the congress he will be one of 27 Michigan 4-H club members at the event, and one of 1,600 members from all states and territories who will attend. Headquarters for the delegates is the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

The other Upper Peninsula delegates are Eunice McGahan, of Cooks, winner of the 4-H Premier Potato Growers' Contest at the U. P. Potato Show, and Virginia

Muehrcke of Gwinn. They will be accompanied by the Houghton county 4-H agent, Wallace Kesitalo. Fred C. Bernhardt, Delta county's 4-H agent will also attend the congress.

More than 3,000 Delta County persons will be ready to start Christmas shopping next week when Christmas club checks will be received from three Escanaba banks.

The checks this year will total $247,685.35. Most members will receive their yearly club savings Monday.

The State Bank of Escanaba is sending checks to 1900 members, who together have saved about $130,000. Nearly 600 persons who are enrolled in the First National Bank club will receive checks total $42,986.00. The Escanaba National bank will send checks totaling $74,837 to nearly 600 persons.

Cases of Wine And Whisky Stolen From Railroad Car Here

One case of wine and a case of whisky were stolen sometime last night from a Chicago & North Western Railway car on a siding at the rear of the Michigan Liquor store, 816 Ludington, police reported today.

Unloading had been underway yesterday and the car door was sealed and nailed for the night. The thieves broke open the door and took the wine and whisky during last night's rainstorm.

Storm Brewing, High Wind And Snow Forecast

S. E. Decker, U. S. weatherman here, reported this noon that a storm is brewing with anticipated winds as high as 80 mph on the open water this afternoon and early evening.

In the Escanaba area the forecast is for rain changing to snow this afternoon with falling temperatures tonight. A low of 10 degrees is forecast for this evening, with snow squalls and cold weather imminent for the Thanksgiving holiday. An afternoon high of 28 is anticipated for Thursday.

Strong south to southwest winds are anticipated this afternoon, 30 to 40 mph and with gusts to 55 mph. Even rougher weather is in store for any sailors who may be caught on the lakes. Winds of 55 to 65 mph are expected on the open water, with gusts reaching 80 mph.

Whole gale warnings are flying at the weather bureau. "This is no weather even for ore boats to be sailing," Weatherman Decker reported.

Heavy snow is anticipated in the western and central portions of the Upper Peninsula. Tracking snow is forecast for this area, Decker said.

The Wisconsin Central flight to Escanaba was interrupted this morning by the weather conditions, with prospects that the flights to and from this city will be cancelled today.

The U. S. Coast Guard station here reported that the USCGC Hollyhook, here on a buoy-pickup assignment, was to halt its work this afternoon in anticipation of the strong winds that are approaching Bay de Noc and Green Bay.

Lake winds are also cancelling trips of two ore boats which were scheduled to arrive here tomorrow from Milwaukee. The boats have been ordered to remain in Milwaukee, according to G. C. Stuart, division superintendent of the C&NW.

No sign of a carrier slated to dock here about noon was seen early this afternoon by the Coast Guard station. It was expected that the boat was ordered to cancel the trip to Escanaba, although no notice of the delay was received by noon by dock officials.

Escanaba High School Dramatics and Thespian Clubs scheduled trip to Munising this evening to attend a Munising High School play has been cancelled because of the bad weather, it was announced.

Elks Initiate Class Tonight

Initiation of a class of 21 candidates for membership, official inspection of the lodge, and their annual venison dinner will be features of a regular meeting tonight of Escanaba Lodge 354, B.P.O. Elks.

Two honored guests will attend the gathering, district deputy James Collins of Iron River and Upper Peninsula Elks president William Curin of Ishpeming. The district deputy will make his annual inspection of the Escanaba lodge and observe the initiatory ritual of the local officers.

Mike Welch will be chef for the venison feed 'on the house', assisted by Oliver Roman.

Student Drop-Out Not A Serious Problem At Escanaba High School

Teen-agers attending Escanaba Senior High School are well aware of the fact that a high school graduate has greater earning power than an eighth grade graduate.

Since Sept. 1949, only 32 students in the high school here have dropped out of school to work, a figure well below similar figures for other communities.

The department of labor—which says a high school graduate is six times more likely to earn $3,000 per year than an eighth grade graduate—has noted that statistics show that a fourth of the eight million teen-agers in the U. S. are working today. That's twice as many as in 1940.

Only 4 Thus Far
The problem of drop-outs in the Escanaba system is actually minor and the percentage is very low, Principal Edward Edick says.

He attributes the low drop-out rate in Escanaba to the educational values held in the community and the type of curriculum offered here. The technical school for students with non-scholastic interests and the cooperative training program are important factors in the holding power of EHS, he notes.

Thus far this year, only four EHS students have quit school to take employment. Total drop-outs this year numbered 60, but 29 of these transferred to other schools, when families moved, etc.

School Asks Why
During the 1951-52 school year, eight students dropped out to work, out of a total of 53 drop-outs. This was seven less than in the 1950-51 school year, when 15 of 68 who dropped out quit school to work. In 1949-50, five of 23 dropped out to go to work.

"Drop-outs occur mainly in the 10th grade, and when students reach the age of 16," Principal Edick states.

When an EHS student wants to drop out, school officials first try to interview him to ascertain his reasons for quitting and to uncover any special problems. If the student quits, the school sends him an invitation to return to classes, and also sends a letter to parents. A questionnaire to determine the reasons for dropping out is enclosed.

Realistic Approach
"The counseling and guidance program here has done much to help youngsters, through closer contact between the counselors and students," Edick states. EHS has six counselors, three men and three women, who assist teen-agers in solving school problems. They follow the student's progress from the 10th through the 12th grade.

Under the school's cooperative training program, 25 to 30 students yearly have an opportunity to obtain training while using a business or industry as a laboratory. Youngsters not planning to attend college attend school half-days and work half-days under this program. To participate in the "co-op" plan, students must take related courses, and are graded for on-the-job training as well as academic work.

"You have to take a realistic approach to the work problem with high school students," Edick maintains.

Money For School

At EHS, students learning under the cooperative program are sometimes given an extra hour from school time to work during holiday rush periods. Seniors who have an opportunity for employment, and who are not on the co-operative training program, are given one hour off, during study periods, to provide more time for work. This is done, however, only when the employer has assured the school that the job will be available for the student upon graduation. The employer also agrees to furnish the school with information on the student's work habits and performance.

Any senior who works under this arrangement must keep up school grades. If marks are down, the student is taken off the job, Edick states. However, most seniors do as well if not better in school after taking the job, he notes.

EHS students who want work submit applications to Al Mathison, coordinator of work-training programs for the school. According to school officials, employers in this area more and more are checking high school records of EHS graduates before hiring them.

Through the cooperative training program and other vocational arrangements at EHS, students not only are able to get the training they seek. Indirectly these programs help students who need money to continue school.

Need Work Permits

Enlistment of students in military service also is not a problem at EHS, Edick notes. The local recruiting office cooperates with officials in urging students to first complete high school. That way young enlistees have better opportunities for service advancement and future employment.

School attendance figures at Escanaba Senior High this year were 96.1 per cent in September, and 95.3 per cent in October. Figures for November, when deer hunters take to the woods, are not available as yet.

In some metropolitan areas, where work is more readily available and where community support of education is less conspicuous, attendance figures drop as low as 80 per cent.

Students are required by law to attend school until they are 16 or have graduated from high school, and must have work permits between the ages of 14 and 17, inclusive, unless employed by their parents.

Can Work 18 Hours

In Escanaba, 72 working permits were issued to teen-agers between the ages of 14 and 17 since school began. In September, officials at EHS issued permits to 16 boys and 15 girls and in October to 31 boys and 10 girls. Seventeen permits were issued to boys aged 14 and 15, most of whom are bowling pin-setters. Permits are issued at EHS for all teen-agers in the city seeking to work.

A minor, by regulation under the Hatch Act, is prohibited from working and attending school longer than 48 hours a week. At EHS, school takes 30 hours per week, leaving 18 hours in a week during which a student can work, with a permit. This includes Saturday work.

EHS students who have working permits must continue to do satisfactory scholastic work. Otherwise their permit is withdrawn.

The U. S. Department of Labor has expressed concern that lack of education will hamper the future of students who drop out of school, and is concerned about the schoolwork and health of teen-agers who work long hours while trying to continue school.

Escanaba, however, does not have a serious problem with teen-agers who quit school to work.

City Gas Loss Being Checked

City crews are making a systematic check for leaks in gas mains and in the operation of gas meters in Escanaba to determine the cause of an increased unaccounted for loss of gas since the city new propane gas plant went into operation July 18.

City Manager A. V. Aronson today said that about three miles of line checking has revealed only four minor leaks in the mains. The checking is continuing.

Inspection of the gas meters has revealed in many cases that the meters have either stopped registering or were slowed because of changes occurring in the meter diaphragm with the change to propane.

Meters Not Register

The diaphragm is made of leather and is the gas measuring device in the meters. The leather was kept resilient and pliable by the oils and tars in the gas manufactured by the old city plant. The propane gas dissolves the accumulated tars and the residue causes the leather to become stiff and occasional holes are discovered.

This resulted in faulty measuring, so the customer received more gas in many instances than was registered by the meter and for which he was billed. This accounted for some of the previously "unaccounted" loss to the city, the city manager explained.

The loss was discovered after the propane plant was in operation for a couple months. Some loss was anticipated when the mains were emptied of the old gas and the new gas was introduced, but when the loss continued the survey of the mains and inspection of meters was begun.

To Study Problems

Gas customers were told again, as they were during the period of conversion, that the basic gas rate is unchanged now from what it was with the old water-gas. Propane has a higher heating unit content, however, and users were advised to keep the gas flame low under utensils on the stove to avoid wasting fuel.

Marshfield, Wis., which also converted to propane some time ago, has had similar difficulties in conversion and employees of Escanaba's gas utility will go there Monday to study the work done there to overcome some of the problems, the city manager said.

Making the one-day trip to Marshfield next Monday will be Joseph Paterick, superintendent of gas and steam utilities; Clarence and Kenneth Tushak, foremen; and Harvey Gasman, foreman in charge of the city's meter department.

An old volcano that explodes anew is likely to be a cinder cone built up by a previous eruption. The old vent is a chimney of hardened lava, which is plugged up. Liquid lava bubbles up, generating gas, which creates the explosion.

Night Parking Ban on Dec. 1

Motorists today were advised by Escanaba city authorities that all-night parking will be prohibited on most streets of the city beginning Dec. 1.

The ordinance prohibits parking for more than one-half hour between 2 a. m. and 7 a. m. on all streets in the city except those in the first half-block north and south of Ludington from Second to 17th Streets, inclusive.

City Safety Director Glen Leonard said state law now is in conformity with city ordinance in not requiring that all streets be posted to this effect.

All that is required is signing on main highway entrances to the city.

These signs are now being erected, said City Engineer Loren Jenkins. By keeping streets clear of cars during the late night hours the city will be able to clear the streets of snow with greater speed and effectiveness.

Be Thankful Today For Your American Right To Choose

IN this year of 1952, we perhaps ought to be most thankful that we have been able once again to enjoy a renewal of the processes of our life which keep us free.

We have just lately come through one of the most strident political campaigns in our nation's history. Reflecting on its tone and content, all Americans must feel a tinge of regret that their politics always seems to be rougher and more bitter than it ought.

And yet we must still be tremendously grateful that we can indulge in this sort of thing at all. Bad as it is, the unbridled nature of our struggle for high office is one great measure of the extent of our freedom.

We in America are continuing to be free to choose the men we want as leaders, in spite of all trials, in spite of all pressures. So long as we hold that privilege, we shall never be delivered into tyranny. So long as we have the right to keep, or reject, as we choose, we are safe from the encroachments of the dictator.

Nowhere else on earth is there a land of such diversity and size—both in area and population—which can boast of practicing democracy as we do. Other smaller countries may show the world more perfect examples of individual liberty, more perfect instruments of government. But they do not encompass desert, mountain, green plains, a dozen different climates, countless varieties of the human species.

What this nation does every four years is for the aspirants to office and the voters alike more an ordeal than an event. We seem unable, even with the most high-minded of candidates, to make our choices without resort to the heights of exaggeration and the depths of abuse and slander. But we have not lost the right to choose. No distortions of campaign method can obscure that. And isn't that a great deal to be thankful for?

Some Folks See A Way Out

YEARS ago an unsung American committed suicide by hanging himself from the chandelier in his living room. On a table beside his body lay an open book he evidently had been reading before he took the fatal step. The title—"How to Fill Out Your Income Tax."

Since his day we've all become a lot more accustomed to that painful tax ritual than many of us thought we could. But to a vigorous minority the annual bout with Uncle Sam's tax forms still seems a good way to manufacture inferiority complexes.

Apparently somebody has lately been delving into psychology. The psychologists, of course, always talk about "conditioning" people to the things they encounter in life. It has now occurred to this someone to condition the American citizen to the job of making out his tax bill. The method—teach him in high school.

That's it. Students are going to get practice in high school at filling out the forms they will in later life come to know so well.

Well, maybe it will work with some. But there's a considerable fraternity which disagrees with the idea that only death and taxes are inescapable. This group would limit the inevitables to one category alone.

Other Editorial Comments

BEST TAX LIMIT: LESS SPENDING (Duluth News Herald)

Americans are getting out of patience with heavy taxation. Several states voted down tax increase proposals on Nov. 4. Suggested new taxes had a similar fate, when the people could express their opinion of them. And a number of organizations are advocating tax limitation.

Many of the suggested methods are attractive, from the citizen's point of view. More realistic income tax exemptions, to reflect the cost of living, even partly, are in the spirit of the earlier income taxes, so are the plans to give more credit for taxes paid by the recipient of the income, in one way or another.

How far these limitation plans get, as amendments to the Constitution or as statutes, will be determined by a number of factors, besides their fairness and popularity. Our government needs an appalling amount of money, which it must obtain from the people. If old taxes are so limited as to fall short of needs, new taxes will be devised.

Reduced spending is the key reduction of the tax load. But strong, well-informed and popular movements for tax limitation are one way to encourage reductions in spending.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Oregon's independent Sen. Wayne Morse paid an unusual call on the Bureau of Internal Revenue the other day. Most people fight shy of this tax-collecting agency; some people get heart failure when its agents even telephone.

But the Oregon senator ambled down to the Bureau and said he wanted to meet with the officials who were running it. Accordingly, Harold Swartz, acting assistant commissioner, sat down with him, plus David Katzenmeier and Frank Cohen of the chief counsel's office, plus E. I. McLarney and Leonard Boyd of the audit division.

"I would like to ask the Bureau of Internal Revenue," Senator Morse told them, "to make a careful audit of my income-tax returns."

The tax officials couldn't believe their ears. The Bureau makes it an unwritten rule not to look too closely at the tax returns of members of Congress. So for a Senator to come in and ask for an audit was revolutionary.

Morse went on to explain that, when he was elected to the Senate in 1945, he had a campaign deficit of about $16,000 which had been paid partly by him, partly by contributions from friends; and that recently Oregon politicians had been circulating charges that the handling of this deficit had violated the tax laws.

He said the money was not paid to him, and he was certain the tax laws had not been violated. But to make sure, he asked that his tax returns be thoroughly audited.

"But we can't audit them prior to 1949," said Assistant Commissioner Swartz. "The statute of limitations has expired."

"Then I'll waive the statute of limitations,"

"You'll what?" asked Swartz incredulously. "Well, we'll have to have written authorization for that."

"You'll get it," replied Morse, who promptly went back to his office and wrote a letter to Acting Commissioner John S. Graham, which stated:

"I respectfully request that you consider this letter as being my official request for an audit of my income-tax returns since I have been in the Senate, starting with the 1945 returns."

Note—when this columnist in 1946 suggested to Senator Morse that members of congress and all top government officials file a statement of outside fees received, income from law practice, stocks and commodities purchased, he immediately introduced a bill to this effect. Had it passed, the Nixon fund would have been required to be registered so the public could know about it before Nixon's nomination to the important office of vice president.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Lame-duck Senator McFarland of Arizona is planning a final fling at the taxpayers' expense. He is making arrangements for a round-the-world trip during his last month as senator. . . . Senator Ferguson of Michigan is so anxious to take over the Senate appropriations committee that he can't wait. He is second to Senator Bridges of New Hampshire in seniority. But, if Bridges accepts the job of majority leader, there's a chance he will be too busy to head the appropriations committee too. So Ferguson has been pestering Bridges' office to find out whether he is giving up the appropriations chairmanship. . . . Secretary of Defense Lovett has invited his successor, Charles E. Wilson, to attend the North Atlantic Pact conference in Paris Dec. 15. . . . General Eisenhower has invited Army Chief of Staff General Collins to fly to Korea with him—after Collins hinted broadly for an invitation. . . . President Truman is pleading with defense boss Joe Fowler not to quit until Ike is inaugurated. The President wants the mobilization program going full steam when Ike takes over. . . . Eisenhower will appoint a special commission, headed by Vannevar Bush, to study the reorganization of the defense department. . . . Senator Lodge of Massachusetts has told friends he won't be in the cabinet but will probably serve as an assistant president and trouble shooter.

STRANGE INVESTIGATORS

Penny-pincher John Taber, new GOP boss of the House appropriations committee, will bellow like a wounded bull when he hears it, but two of his investigators have gone on a spending spree in Europe and Africa.

They are John Donnelly and Tim Donovan, who were supposed to investigate airbase scandals in North Africa. However, their military liaison man, Lt. Com. J. T. Paxson, reported back to the Pentagon that the two investigators were gallivanting around Switzerland—a country where there are no air bases to investigate.

Commander Paxson also complained that the investigators had run through $2,500 expense money in less than a month. This money was put up by the Defense Department from a special fund for congressional investigations.

On top of this, Donnelly had demanded that the investigators be permitted to inspect top-secret documents. This was denied until a routine check could be made of Congressman Taber's investigators. When Donnelly raised a fuss, however, a temporary clearance was granted.

Later, the Defense Department's check on the investigators revealed that Tim Donovan had once been convicted of forgery, had jumped parole, spent another 60 days in jail for drunken driving. Yet he reported on his application that he had never been convicted of a crime.

So the Defense Department revoked Donovan's temporary clearance.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

London—The grand allied assault on Tunis and Bizerte was about to be launched by the forces of Lt. Gen. K. A. Anderson, the Morocco radio announced, while American and British planes in relays pounded hotbeds on the whole Tunisian battleground.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—F. F. Davis, relief director of the Delta Red Cross chapter, announced that additional yard goods for the making of yard garments for the needy of the county had been received here.

Ike Needs Economic Advisors Who Know Businessman's Worry

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food & Markets Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — President-elect Eisenhower must have in his Council of Economic Advisors economically sound men who are acutely sensitive to the secret worries of millions of people about insecurity, mass unemployment and instability of the business cycle, according to Harry A. Bullis, board chairman of General Mills and long-time personal friend of the General.

Bullis, who is also national vice president, Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and a trustee of the Committee for Economic Development, added:

"Many economists believe that the situation is ripe for a recession in the next year or two. Nevertheless, I believe that if Ike surrounds himself with men thoroughly conversant with the best economic thinking on technical procedures, who know what steps can be taken to sustain a high level of employment and who know how to mitigate, at least, economic fluctuations, the current fears of the man in the street for his job, his home and his savings will be proved unfounded."

This hard-headed but consistently optimistic big time industrial leader reports that from several recent conferences with the President-elect, he is convinced General Eisenhower will use the best economic brains in the country. He also feels Eisenhower will avoid getting into key government positions the kind of economic advisors who, though scholarly, are old-fashioned and insensitive to the nature of our economic problems and the medicine at hand to cure them.

"Ike has the reputation of being able to get better men than he is around him and make them work together as a team. By better men, I mean better specialists in their field," he explained.

"As a result of this talent in the General," Bullis added, "business men are looking forward to a favorable climate for the risk system of profit and loss."

"We are expecting new heights of industrial expansion and vast increase of production of goods in the years ahead," he insisted. "All this will mean a constantly increasing standard of living for everyone, including that mythical and over-dramatized 'man-in-the-street.'"

"In a democracy like ours, aren't we all, management and labor alike, men in the street?" he asked.

However, the man in the street, whoever he may be, fears that the promised removal of many, if not all controls, will send his living costs still higher than they are now. But Bullis does not expect further inflation in 1953. Instead, he foresees a year of reasonable stability similar to 1952, without any great swing in our economy.

"Nor do I, on the reverse side of the coin, fear deflation after 1953," he stated emphatically. "By this time next year, we'll face some decline in defense outlay and also some decline in plant and equipment outlay by industry. These two predictable declines, if added together, may amount to $10 to $12 billion, maybe more in 1954," he said. "But remember this economic fact—a decline of even $15 billion would mean less than five per cent recession in production."

As a business man and old country as yet unequipped. There is a market for perhaps 20 million new television receivers. This new business could exceed a billion dollars a year for several years.

3. Demands and outlays for super-highways are growing at a fast rate. New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio and West Virginia are building such roads, and North Carolina and Wisconsin planning some. We know we can finance these roads without Federal help and make them pay their own way.

4. We are beginning to demand well-planned and integrated shopping centers in suburban areas. In Minneapolis for example, three such centers, each to cost $10 million, have been planned. Many such projects have been scheduled in other localities.

5. High wage rates make labor-saving machinery more and more important. Expenditures for such machinery to increase national productivity promise to pay off in added profits. For this reason it is possible that capital expenditures of business will be sustained at a fairly high level.

6. Because our banks are in good liquid condition, they can be on to help finance sound projects. Although our personal debts are large, they are generally financed on a sound amortization basis.

7. Labor will be scarce for another 10 to 15 years. Population growth, the largest in history, during the past 10 years was almost three times the growth during the same period in the 30s. We now have 55 per cent more children under five than 10 years ago, and also have more older people. Our working force on the other hand, is growing slowly. For this reason wages will continue relatively high and there will be a great need for new and improved machinery.

"Political considerations, of course, will be overriding in terms of cabinet, ambassadorial and certain other positions," Bullis admitted. "But based on my knowledge of the way he thinks and my faith in him, I am positive Ike will select also plenty of business men who are sensitive to and understand the problems of a dynamic modern national economy in a changing world," he concluded.

to take up the slack when defense spending declines," he added.

Here are some of the new forms of economic activity or "buoyant forces" Bullis expects General Eisenhower to encourage.

1. With still high incomes, American consumers will need more necessities of our high standard of living: new refrigerators, air conditioning systems, better furniture and improved domestic equipment. As we have not yet caught up with the need for housing, home and apartment construction will show a considerable increase.

2. We need at least 500 television stations in sections of the Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE WATCHFUL EYE — The public may be unaware of some things they should know about local government, but they do keep their eyes open when it comes to street markers.

This has been the experience in Escanaba, according to City Manager A. V. Aronson.

At the corner of South 10th Street and Fourth Avenue South the city erected a sample sign given the city by the Michigan Municipal League. It is a metal sign, white on black (or black on white) if I recall.

But the concern is caused by one little error in the wording on the sign. It describes Fourth Avenue South as "S. Fourth Ave." and the people want to know if the city knows about the error.

The city manager has received three letters and several personal and telephone inquiries concerning the sign. The answer is this: It is a sample sign which the city accepted without cost and there is no intention at this time of buying more. The concrete markers, erected during WPA days, are still giving good service.

THE FISHY ODOR—Joseph Bal of Gladstone, employee of the Michigan Water Resources Commission in the Upper Peninsula, believes that water should be free of pollution—and if it isn't clean it should be cleaned up.

Because, you see, Michigan's lakes and streams were all sparkling fresh and clean before men came along to use them as dumping grounds for sewage and industrial wastes.

The Water Resources Commission—with Upper Peninsula cities and industries cooperating—is out to make the lakes and rivers much cleaner if not as clean as they once were. This means controlling industrial waste as well as sewage. Ball told the Escanaba Rotary Club.

Rotarian E. E. Edick contributed the observation that although a fish may live in a polluted stream it is far from being edible.

He told of a fishing trip up the Escanaba to Goose Creek near Negaunee, where he caught a trout. The water in the area smelled bad, the fish looked unsavory, and when it was cleaned the odor was so offensive the fish had to be thrown away.

THE MODERN ARTIST—With considerable trepidation we venture the prediction that much of today's so-called "modern" art will find a resting place in obscurity in the not too distant future.

This is the hope, at least, of a large number of Americans who would hesitate to believe that future generations will place them in the honorable category of "old masters."

But there are those, including Colette Roberts, affiliated with the modern branch (Division of the Grand Central Museum, New York City, who feel the modern artist is sincere and doing a good work for humanity.

"After all," she says in Today's Art, "to make a living as an artist is not so easy that one tries to make it the hard way by wishing to displease instead of please."

That may all be very well, but there are many avenues of art open to the modern artist if he wants to please the masses. Normal Rockwell, Rockwell Kent, Grant Wood and quite a few others are doing it with profit to themselves and pleasure to the public at large.

And if magazine covers and illustrations are not contemporary art in a truer sense of the word than the labored and meaningless abstracts of the "modern" artist, then let time judge the issue.

Consider, if you will, what if anything the anthropologist or archaeologist of the future will learn of this nation and its people should he uncover a "modern" abstract 500 years from now.

But give him one cover or illustration by a reputable "commercial" artist and he will have before him a true and valuable depiction of how America lived, the ideals and aspirations of its people, and the vital humor and essence of the times.

Abstract or "modern" artists not only lack realism—their paintings are incapable of humor, of wit, and in most instances of understanding and feeling.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

The key words in each pair of sentences are homophones, that is, words of identical pronunciation but of different spelling and meaning. From each pair, select and mark the one you believe to be correct. Answers are below.

1.—(a) A pair of beautiful cygnets were on the lake. (b) A pair of beautiful signets were on the lake.

2.—(a) The chairman wrapped for order. (b) The chairman rapped for order.

3.—(a) The audience expressed descent. (b) The audience expressed dissent.

4.—(a) Your remark is sheer nonsense. (b) Your remark is sheer nonsense.

5.—(a) The ship went on its way. (b) The ship went on its weigh.

6.—(a) The cat's muddy clause soiled her dress. (b) The cat's muddy claws soiled her dress.

7.—(a) The story was bruted aboard. (b) The story was bruted aboard.

8.—(a) Her broach was of chased silver. (b) Her broach was of chaste silver.

ANSWERS

1.—(a) is correct. A cygnet (SIG-net) is a young swan. A signet is a seal.

2.—(b) is correct. To rap is to enclose. 3.—(b) is correct; it means disagreement.

4.—(a) is correct; it means downright, utter.

5.—(a) is correct; way, here, means line of travel.

6.—(b) is correct. A clause is a part of a sentence.

7.—(b) is correct; it means reported. 8.—(a) is correct; it means ornamented by indentations.

A writer claims that men actually gossip more than women. Probably about women gossiping.

Why is it that there's never any static on the radio during the bedtime stories?

Holiday Lighting Being Discouraged

THE seriousness of Escanaba's electric shortage is evidenced by the request of the power company that holiday lighting in this area be discouraged this year because it is feared the electric demand may exceed the supply.

In past years holiday lighting was encouraged in Escanaba, except during the war years when dimout regulations applied nationally. The holiday lighting has helped to make Escanaba beautiful during the Christmas season and assisted in spreading Christmas cheer.

Holiday lighting is not essential, of course, and it can be reduced to meet the critical electric shortage in the Escanaba area. Obviously it will have to be kept to a minimum this year because of the electric shortage.

This unfortunate situation shows the urgency of the electric problem. If electric power is unavailable to meet the peak holiday needs of the present, it is readily apparent that electric power is likewise unavailable for industrial expansion. For that matter, it means also that the normal acceleration of electric consumption must come to an end unless other means are found to increase the city's electric supply.

Nazism Again Looms Darkly

ONCE again, this time in relatively limited local and state elections, Nazism has reared its ugly shape in Germany. The last chief of staff of Hitler's Storm Troops won a seat on town and county councils, running on the "Refugee Party" ticket. A few other ex-Nazis scored.

By itself, this result is inconclusive. What will really count in Western Germany is the national election in 1953.

But the increasingly strong showing of rightist candidates this time suggests a dangerous trend may be in the making. Police, even before the election, barred 61 illegal cover groups endeavoring to conceal their revived Nazi leanings. Yet others managed to get on the ballot, and Nazis hitting the comeback trail plainly are not through trying.

The Christian Democrats, leaders of the governing right-wing coalition at Bonn, and the Social Democrats, the chief opposition, have a great deal of tough missionary work ahead if Western Germany is not to backslide next year toward the dark pit of totalitarianism.

The Doctor Says... Strict Bed Rest Is Necessary In Cases of Virus Pneumonia

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A letter received some weeks ago serves as such an excellent introduction to the subject of virus pneumonia that it shall be quoted at some length.

"When I came down with virus pneumonia," writes Mrs. T., "I had been over the worst part of my cold for two weeks; then I started with a gradually rising temperature, and after a few hours I began to break out all around my lips with fever blisters. The same night my temperature went very high, and then I broke out into severe sweating and chills.

"The next few days were the same. At the time we were broke and I didn't have money for a doctor, and not knowing what was wrong I let it go for four days. But after I started coughing up blood I made up my mind that money or no money, I better find out what was wrong with me. Now, after several months, I still have to be careful and not strain too much, and I feel tired all the time."

The letter quoted brings up several important things about virus, or a typical pneumonia. This disease, like most colds and influenza, is caused by a virus, which is a tiny living organism too small to see under the microscope. As in Mrs. T's case, it often starts like an ordinary cold with cough, running eyes and nose, and perhaps some fever which may not be noticed at first.

Neglect is a dangerous thing, and Mrs. T. is lucky that the effects were not even worse. Certainly strict bed rest from the beginning is most desirable, and this is particularly true since treatment with drugs is of somewhat questionable value, though one of the relatives of penicillin— aureomycin—has been claimed by some to be useful.

LONG RECOVERY PERIOD

One of the most annoying things about virus pneumonia is the fact that complete recovery takes so long. It is true that very few victims of the disease die from it, but an X-ray film of the lungs taken weeks after the end of the acute illness will often show some changes still present.

This probably accounts for the usual story given by those who had it that they do not feel "right" for weeks or months. Since this is the case, those who have had virus pneumonia should realize that convalescence is a long-drawn-out process and they should not expect to regain their usual vigor and feeling of well-being for a very long time.

Grand Marais

Deer Hunters Round Up
GRAND MARAIS—Three Bay City hunters are going home happy with part of their license filled. Walter Gorney bagged an 8-point buck weighing 170 pounds, Frank Ksiazal a 4-pointer weighing 140 pounds and Vern Andreski Jr., a 150-pound bear cub.

Ray Walker Jr., Ray Walker Sr., Frank Stargaard and Harold Brown Jr. are still trying for a buck to take back to their home in Muskegon. They are staying at the Meldrum camp. Other Michigan hunters bringing down their bucks were Kenneth Borno of Trenton with a 9-pointer, Sam Pierati also of Trenton, a 6-pointer, and Rudolph Olsen of Northbrook, Ill., a 10-pointer.

Hunters at Camp 33 are Don Blackwall, Kenneth Nelson, Oliver Nelson, Kenneth Blackwell and Norman Swafford all of Newaygo, Mich.

Another Bay City hunter, Thomas Wilzhe took home a 5-pointer and Carl O. Christenson of Muskegon a 9-point buck weighing 200 pounds.

Sidney Hermanson a 16-year old Grand Marais hunter is very proud of his first buck a 10-pointer especially since he bested his dad, Edward Hermanson who got only a 4-pointer.

Birthday Celebration
 Arthur Tulloch was the guest of honor at a dinner given in honor of his 80th birthday. Mr. Tulloch came to Grand Marais in the early 20's. Previous to that he lived in Marquette and during his youth spent some time in Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hermanson of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Jennie Spencer of Munising and William Hermanson of Marquette, were called home because of the serious illness of their father, Carl Hermanson, who was taken to Munising Hospital.

Joan Vercellino has returned to Detroit after visiting with relatives here.

John Peterson has gone to Muskegon where he will be employed. Ronald Baynton of Pontiac is visiting with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Tornovich have returned to Holland after spending a week at their home here deer hunting.

Steven Block, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Block left last week for Minneapolis for active duty as a Naval Cadet. From there he expects to go to Pensacola, Fla. Steve enlisted in the Naval Air Corps last July and was placed on inactive duty. He was graduated from Grand Marais High School in 1948 and spent two years at St. Norbert College, DePere, Wis.

DEATH TAKES HOLIDAY
KALISPELL, Mont. (AP)—For 72 years there hasn't been a death among 12 of the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Reeves. The twelve—ranging from 82 years of age to 52—held a family reunion here recently. The last time one of the children died was in 1880.

Germfask

GERMFASK—Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ryerson of Kalamazoo and Burton Overholt of Allegan are spending a few days hunting and visiting friends here.

Pvt. William Miller of Seney now on furlough from Atlanta, Ga., has been visiting relatives and friends here.

Andrew LaCrosse of Flint who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Amore for the past few days has returned to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holliday and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert LaPorte of Muskegon who have been hunting and visiting have returned to their homes.

Miss Evelyn Pittsley and Mrs. Earl Peasley of Grand Rapids brought Miss Pittsley's grandfather William Pittsley to his home here Friday.

Robert Rottmann of Centerline and John Rosko of Detroit who have been moose hunting in Alaska are spending a few days here before going on to their homes.

Ovid Swisher is a patient at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Paris are visiting and hunting here for a few days. Mr. Smith lived in Germfask many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryder of Spring Lake who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Ryder's sister, Mrs. Henry Polhamus, have returned to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Race of Muskegon who have been hunting here have returned to their home. Alger Munn of Paris, who is spending some time at his cabin here got a 10 point buck, weighing 178 pounds, and Don Smith of Ft. Wayne, Ind., reports he got a 12 point weighing 213 pounds the first day of season.

William Tervo of Manchester arrived Saturday to spend a few days hunting.

Thompson

THOMPSON—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoholik of Flint are guests at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. John Hoholik, while hunting in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cox of Pontiac are hunting guests at the home of Mr. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fragale of Chicago are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fragale, and with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fragale in Cooks.

James Scully and son, Jimmy, of Marquette, spent the week at the hunting lodge of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Miller at Goose Neck Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Paquin of Cheboygan and George Jarvis of Whitefish Point visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hursh here and with Mr. and Mrs. John Feicht in Cooks.

Mrs. Evelyn Johnson was guest of honor at a pre-nuptial shower held at her home Thursday evening by the Community Club, of which she was a member. She was presented with a silver service set. Mrs. Johnson became the bride of John Coffey Saturday at St. Francis church in Manistique.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Saylor of Bannister, hunters in the Chicago Lake area, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson of Indian Lake were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cox.

An overheated stovepipe is believed to have started a fire in the walls of the home of Mrs. Dorothy Stanley Saturday afternoon. The interior of the house and clothing were damaged by smoke and water. The Manistique fire department extinguished the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stenhoff and children and Miss Shirley Rochefort of Munising spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sample.

16 TB Suspects X-rayed Here

Forty-seven of the 1,207 chest x-rays taken here Oct. 28 and 29 were abnormal, the Delta-Memorial Health Department reports.

Immediate reray on large film was advised for 25 of the persons taking the chest x-rays, and 17 were recommended for further study by their family physician.

In 16 cases, reinfection with tuberculosis was suspected.

Seven active or questionable active cases were discovered during the two-day stand here. All persons are advised to have an annual chest x-ray when the unit is in the area.

A periodic reray was advised for one person and an annual reray was suggested for two. Two films with abnormalities were deemed of no clinical importance.

The percentage of abnormalities in films taken here, 3.89, is slightly higher than the average for the state of Michigan, which is 3 per cent.

About half of the abnormal films are due to tuberculosis, and most of the remaining half are abnormal due to heart conditions, Dr. William C. Harrison, health director, states. Lung tumors also produce abnormal chest x-ray films.

Two abnormal films were reported for Powers, where 252 chest x-rays were taken Oct. 27. Immediate reray on large film was advised for both. There was one suspected reinfection with tuberculosis and one active case reported from Powers.

HE PAINTS WITH SPIRIT—Jim Wallace, above, puts the finishing touches to a Christmas drawing, as occupational therapist Marie Ryan admires other examples of the paralyzed veteran's art work, at Crile Veterans Administration hospital in Cleveland, Ohio. Wallace, 28, of Akron, Ohio, was injured in a swimming accident in Germany in 1945. Although he has lost the use of his arms and legs, through patient, tedious effort he has learned to draw, paint, and tool leather by holding his artist's tools in his teeth.

Bullet Disrupts Water Service

SAGINAW (AP)—A rifle bullet fired Saturday still was playing hob today.

The bullet, apparently fired by a deer hunter, snapped a power line and the disruption of electric service led through chain reaction to a break in the 86-mile water pipe line of the Saginaw-Midland Water Supply System.

The bullet felled a high tension line of the Consumers Power Co. near the Mio dam. That cut off service to the water pipe line's intake plant at White Stone Point on Lake Huron.

Lack of power caused the pumps to stop and this created a suction in the pipe line. The suction caused two 16-foot lengths of pipe to break 50 miles south of White Stone Point.

One break is near Saginaw, the other near Midland.

Water will have to be shut off today while the breaks are repaired, but is expected to be flowing normally again through the $10,000,000 pipe line again by nightfall.

Quarantine Extended For Swine Disease

LANSING (AP)—A new outbreak of the swine disease, Vesicular Exanthema, west of Albion has forced a quarantine on a group of townships in Calhoun and Jackson counties, State Agriculture Director Charles Figy announced today.

The quarantine forbids the movement of pigs into or out of the affected townships.

The quarantined townships, all adjoining, are Lee, Clarence, Marango, Sheridan, Eckford and Albion townships in Calhoun County and Concord, Parma and Springport townships in Jackson County.

The disease was discovered by an Albion veterinarian in a garbage feed lot west of the town.

Flint GOP Boss Named To Direct U. S. Mail Service and choose a new chairman. He said he has not decided whether he will also resign as Republican national committeeman from Michigan.

Summerfield will take over the giant Post Office Department and its 500,000 employees from Jesse M. Donaldson, civil service career man in the postal service for 45 years, who was named to the top job by President Truman in 1945.

No Surprise

Donaldson, 67, and with many years of civil service behind him, now has a choice of seeking continued service in a top-rated post office job or taking the full retirement benefits to which he is entitled.

Summerfield, who was made party chairman immediately after the Eisenhower nomination at Chicago and who steered the successful Republican campaign, said the post office appointment came as no sudden surprise, but declined to say when it was first offered him.

He is a native of Pinconning, Mich., completed eight grades of school, and went to work at 13 in industrial plants around Detroit, working for both Buick and Chevrolet.

Subsequently, he was a real estate operator and successful oil distributor in Michigan and founded his retail automobile business in 1929. He belongs to the Masons.

Elks, Kiwanis, Detroit Club, Detroit Athletic Club, Committee on Foreign Relations, Economic Club of Detroit, the Flint Golf Club and the Flint City Club.

He and Mrs. Summerfield, the former Miriam W. Grain, have two children, Arthur E. Summerfield Jr. and Mrs William C. Davison, both of Flint, and four grandchildren.

Summerfield declined to speculate on who his successor as Republican chairman might be.

However, capital talk has included names of Sinclair Weeks, Massachusetts national committeeman; Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who was defeated for re-election; Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska, who did not seek re-election, and Tom Coleman of Wisconsin, who was floor manager for the Taft forces at the nominating convention.

Party Chieftains OK Eisenhower Cabinet Choices

Watkins said Summerfield will "put some business management" in the Post Office Department. He said the choice of Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. Priest were well deserved honors of which the nation's women can be proud.

Welker called Summerfield "wonderfully qualified" and hailed Mrs. Hobby's selection as "recognition of the people of the South."

Hickenlooper praised all three appointments, and Thomas said Mrs. Hobby "will do the job just like it ought to be done."

Postmaster General Donaldson wired congratulations to Summerfield and offered co-operation in transferring authority. Summerfield said he hopes to meet with Donaldson soon.

John L. Thurston, acting federal security administrator in the absence abroad of Administrator Oscar Ewing, telegraphed congratulations to Mrs. Hobby and proffered "any assistance."

Bombs Rained On Red Troops

By ROBERT TRUCKMAN

SEOUL (AP)— Allied fighter-bombers slammed high explosives and flaming jelled gasoline on a sprawling Red troop and supply concentration near Wonsan on the Communist east coast today.

Pilots said the whole area burst into flame. Dense clouds of smoke rose thousands of feet. Five large secondary explosions were touched off, indicating direct hits on ammunition stores.

U. S. Sabre jets and Communist MIG-15s clashed deep over North Korea. Allied pilots made no claims of damage or destruction.

Along the battlefield, U. N. infantrymen hurled back an assault by about 120 screaming Chinese Reds who stormed their central front positions on the southern slopes of Jackson Heights. The savage, close-quarters fighting raged for four hours.

The Air Force announced that Lt. Cecil G. Foster of San Antonio knocked down his fifth Communist warplane Saturday and became America's 24th ace of the Korean War. Foster's claim was confirmed after a study of gun camera film.

secretary of state. McCormick said of him:

"Dulles belongs to the millionaires socialist crowd who would put European interest before American interests, a policy to which Eisenhower seems to have been attracted by his command of armies."

The appointment will cause trouble in the Republican party, McCormick said.

"This presages a split between Eisenhower and a large majority of Republicans," McCormick said. "How we shall go from here nobody can know."

Third Party Mentioned
Eisenhower's own nomination as the GOP candidate, the publisher continued, was the result of cleavages within the party. He said, "A queer assortment of millionaire socialists in the East brought about the nomination of Eisenhower by sharp practice which caused great defection."

McCormick in the New Haven speech also mentioned for the first time since the election his thoughts on a third party. The publisher, a life-long Republican, advocated such a third party before the election; but his Chicago Tribune in the later stages of the campaign endorsed Eisenhower "with reluctance."

"Advocates of a third party this year were embarrassed for lack of a candidate," McCormick said. "If a third party is to be formed it will have to be formed before the (next) conventions, and a candidate will have to be found who can accept defeat in 1956 . . . with the idea of having a victorious party in 1960 . . ."

The Chicago Tribune supported Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination.

Two Important Posts
In a statement accompanying his announcements about Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. Priest, Eisenhower called them "outstanding women." He said, "I am honored to have them participate in the affairs of the government of the United States."

The Federal Security Agency directs government social and welfare work. Eisenhower described it as a "virtually important position." In view of its importance, he said, Mrs. Hobby will be asked to attend cabinet meetings although the post does not now have cabinet rank.

Both Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. Priest are 47 years old. Mrs. Hobby has two children, Mrs. Priest three. Mrs. Hobby served some six years in the Texas House of Representatives as a parliamentarian. She filled various editorial and executive offices on the Houston Post and became its editor and publisher last month. During World War II, she was head of the Women's Army Corps with the rank of colonel.

Mrs. Priest said her interest in politics dates back to childhood. She has been a Republican national committeewoman from Utah since 1944.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel hit a fast pace today in a higher stock market.

With gains of fractions to around a point, the steels stood ahead as the best of the major divisions. The remainder of the list moved over a range of fractions lower to around a point higher.

Railroads, recent leaders in higher markets, were ragged today. Motors moved narrowly. Coppers were lower. Oils were steady. Golds were mixed. Chemicals came up after a laggard start. Aircrafts were mostly higher.

Higher stocks today included Santa Fe, New York Central, Paramount Pictures, American Telephone, Dow Chemical, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, and Douglas Aircraft.

Lower were Chrysler, Goodyear, Kennecott Copper, Homestake Mining, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco, and Consolidated Edison.

Bill Gordon's "Partner" ...

Your grocer, Bill Gordon, has a "partner" who is very valuable to him, and Bill's business would suffer if his "partner" ever failed him. It never has. You see, Bill's partner is his daily newspaper. It brings him news . . . it tells his customers about the food and bargains he has for them. His daily newspaper lets him know, in a brief but thorough manner, what his customers are thinking . . . saying . . . doing. It serves him in many other ways, too. In bringing Bill Gordon the news of his community, nation and the world, his newspaper doesn't do a helter-skelter job. It sifts and resifts the news so he won't have to do it himself. It brings him information by leaders in every field . . . it tells him who won the ball game. In its editorial columns it discusses problems, exposes wrongs and works for him and his community every day in the year.

Yes, Bill Gordon's daily newspaper is all important to him — it's all important to you too.

YOUR NEWSPAPER IS YOUR EVERY DAY PARTNER . . . SERVING YOU IN COUNTLESS WAYS.

Expert Gives Parents Advice
On Improving Child's Reading

This mother encourages her child's desire to learn how to read. She lets him follow the story with his eyes as she reads aloud, points out basic, concrete words to him, and relates printed words to the pictures. She is not teaching him how to read because she does not want to interfere with his teacher, but she is helping his practice and giving him confidence.

By ANNETTE JEWETT
NEW YORK (NEA)—One of two years' difference in the age at which your child learns to read should never worry you. The important thing is that he learns to read correctly, according to Mrs. Lillian Moore, reading specialist for the New York City Board of Education.

You cannot speed up your child's rate by worrying or comparing it with other children's. If he is slow in learning to read, it is extremely likely that there are other things he learns to do rapidly. It will come out the same in the end—the child who learns slowly can read as well in later life as the child who learns rapidly.

How fast he learns depends a lot on whether he starts when he realizes that he is missing fun and knowledge by not possessing the skill.

Follow These Rules
"A parent should never teach his child how to read because the method may conflict with the one used in his school," Mrs. Moore says. However, there are many ways in which a parent can help his child's reading teacher. Here are a few do's and don'ts:

Let your child read you a story but never tell him you want to hear him read. Say instead that you want to hear a story, and then listen with full attention. This will make him less self-conscious of the process.

Ask him to read the story to himself first, explaining that you always do this when you read to him. This will protect him from the embarrassment of making too many mistakes. Encourage him to read to younger brothers and sisters. They always listen naturally for the story rather than to the way he reads.

When you read to him let him sit on your lap and follow the story along with you. You might also take turns reading pages.

When he asks you the meaning of a word, always supply it immediately. Otherwise, while he struggles alone, he will forget the meaning of what he has just read, losing the benefit of training in smooth, rhythmic reading.

Let Him Find Them
Later, when he has quite a wide vocabulary and some mastery of the process, show him ways to find out unknown word meanings for himself. Ask him to look at the pictures. They may clarify the meaning for him. Suggest that he "jump" the word and go on to the rest of the sentence. His own intelligence may supply the meaning. You can correct him, if necessary.

Picture-dictionaries are a very great help. Your child should own one and be encouraged to look up words in it for himself. It will

10 Scholarships
For Engineering

NEW YORK (AP)—To encourage more young men to take up engineering, the American Society of Tool Engineers is offering 10 scholarships of $700 each to engineering students in American and Canadian colleges.

The society, which has some 23,000 production experts among its members, is offering the 1953 scholarships to college students in their fourth or fifth year who are taking subjects in the general category of tool engineering, including such courses as metal processing, tool design, plant layout, inspection and advanced manufacturing processes.

For the last two years, the society has awarded five $300 scholarships. The 1953 awards represent an increase of more than 350 per cent in the program.

The 33-week season, opening March 17 will see the presentation of "The Merchant of Venice," "Richard III," "Anthony and Cleopatra," "The Taming of the Shrew" and "King Lear."

you will know whether he is reading or just word-calling.

A children's magazine may increase his desire to learn. A new one, called "Humpty Dumpty," is being edited by Parents' Institute, Inc., for children who cannot yet read at all or are just learning to read.

It features stories for parents to read aloud, simple stories written for beginners to read to themselves, and plots for mothers to retell in their own words. There are also many pictures, cutouts, coloring pages, puzzles and magic tricks to add to the interest this new magazine should have.

Big Pump Turbine
Authorized By TVA

NEW YORK (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority has authorized contracts for construction of the largest electric motor and reversible pump turbine in the world for installation at the Hiwassee Dam in southwestern North Carolina. It is scheduled for completion in 1955.

The reversible pump turbine will operate as a turbine in one direction and as a pump in the other.

The electric motor will serve as a generator for the turbine operation and as a motor for the pump. When motor-driven, the unit will be able to pump 3,300,000,000 gallons of water a day. This is three times the quantity used each day by the city of New York.

South Korean Becomes Wizard Of Jap Market

By FRED SAITO
TOKYO (AP) — The wizard of the booming Japanese stock market is a 37-year-old South Korean who started without a penny of his own in 1945 and now speculates with some 10 million dollars entrusted to him by millions of clients.
His personal fortune is a secret but Matsutomi Ito's lavish way of life is in marked contrast to more than 600,000 other Koreans in Japan. Most of them are poverty-stricken day laborers, looked upon as second-class citizens.

Brokers Awe
Ito now heads a private stock investment fund with 180 branches throughout the country. The powerful Honganji Buddhist sect with some 10 million followers is one of his best customers.
Japanese brokers look with awe upon this slight young man who adopted a Japanese name and is now a naturalized citizen.
Ito was in the same poor fix as his fellow countrymen in Japan until shortly after World War II. He came to Japan in 1928. He was only 13 when he came to live with his brother, a factory worker now missing in Korea. Now he is

Bankrupt Tolfree Pk Pys 2,000 10 Per Cent Dividend

WEST BRANCH, Mich (AP) — The 2,000 depositors of the bankrupt Tolfree private savings bank will receive their first dividend payments within two weeks. Referee in Bankruptcy Archie Katcher announced today.
The payments will be to the amount of 10 per cent on each claim, Katcher said.
Katcher said the way was cleared for the first payment when 42 priority claims were disapproved recently.
The Tolfree bank, known formally as Tolfree, Livingstone and Co., closed with a shortage in July, 1951, and later was declared bankrupt.
Unpaid loans made by the bank were said to be the cause of its failure. Eugene Tolfree, whose family founded the bank, was its last president. The bank had always enjoyed a firm reputation prior to the unremitted loans.

State Calls For Bids On Timber Cutting

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department will take bids early next month for cutting rights in more than 1,200 acres in six state forests.
The auctions are scheduled for Dec. 3, 4 and 5.
Cuttings will be authorized in Baraga, Escanaba River, Grand Sable, Mackinac and Menominee state forests in the Upper Peninsula and in the Thunder Bay River state forest in the Lower Peninsula.

one of Japan's richest men. He lives in a palace-sized house and travels in a limousine driven by a chauffeur.

After the war Ito borrowed money and headed for the countryside to buy food and bring it to starving Tokyo.
"It was a strenuous business but rewarded with 100 per cent profit in the chaotic days when many faced starvation," Ito told an interviewer.

Ito turned away from his fellow Koreans and set about making money.
"I have no friends in the Korean community and don't seek them," he said.

Trading Runs Wild
With funds gained from his food dealings, Ito started a stock brokerage business in Tokyo's East End slum district in 1948.
He proved a genius at figuring the twistings and turnings of Japan's bouncing market. He borrowed money from investors and speculated on his own, dividing the profits later.

The Japanese stock market rivals the wildest ever seen in the United States.
The average of 225 issues on the market recently advanced from 167 yen, early in January, to 329 yen on Nov. 10. One Japanese camera firm's stock shot up from 165 yen to 415 yen in two weeks.
Ito learned to call the turn and rode the market to a fortune. He's still at it with no sign of weakening in his speculations.
His firm is known as the "Hozen Keizaikai." Translated that means "despite its way of operation—Safe Economy Club."

PRESIDENT'S TABLE — The small mahogany table, above has held the Bible on which every President but President Taft has taken the oath of office, since Lincoln's second inaugural in 1865. President Taft took the oath of office in the Senate Chamber in 1909, because of a blizzard which made it impossible to appear on the Inaugural Stands. Charles Shephard dusts off the table, in anticipation of its use by President-elect Eisenhower, on Jan. 20.
Prison population of the United States is estimated at between 400,000 and 500,000.

Men Of U. S. Not Bossy Enough, Denise Thinks

HOLLYWOOD — No doubt about it, Denise Darcel likes American men. But, she says:

They want their wives to be mothers to them.

They aren't bossy enough with their women.

They marry too young.

La belle Darcel is the French version of perpetual emotion. She never sidesteps an issue, but instead wades right in with idioms flying. And when the subject is male female relationships, she speaks forcibly and with an insight possessed only by the French.

Here are some of her views, translated from unique English: "American men want a mother as well as a wife. I don't mean just for the children; I mean for the men themselves. They allow their wives to assume the authority that their mothers had over them. They don't say, 'We're going to a movie tonight.' They say, 'Would you like to go to a movie tonight, dear?'"

Not Firm Enough

"That's bad. When the man becomes too weak, his wife loses all the respect she had for him. That's why there is so much divorce in America. The men are not firm enough with their women the men are the boss in France; that's one of the reasons the French have so little divorce."

"Women like to be bossed. They want the man to be the head of the family; that is the way nature intended life to be. She also likes to be a mother. She can be motherly to her husband, but she should do it in a subtle way."

"Yes, I know that the wives work hard, too. If they are too exhausted, their husbands should offer to help. But it doesn't help the glamor of their marriage if the women are worn out when the men come home."

"My suggestion is this: the women should work a little faster so they can have an hour's rest before their husbands come home. No matter how hard I've worked during the day, I always try to get a little rest before I have a date."

Love Good At Any Age

This mother complex on the part of U. S. husbands is partly because they marry too early, said the French gal.

"They have not been out in the world long enough and they still feel an urge to be mothered," she remarked. "A man shouldn't marry until he has grown up and had a great deal of experience with women. I think the best age would be around 32 or 35."

Is a more mature man a better lover?

"Who mentioned anything about love?" she inquired. But since it appeared to be one of her favorite topics, she added: "If a man is a good lover, he is good at any age."

Miss Darcel, who is currently toiling in "Flame of Calcutta," gives a final word of advice to American men: Tell your wives to shut up now and then. Be firm, but don't go to extremes. The French husband is too bossy, while the American is not bossy enough.

happy medium is the perfect husband."

Jail Trusties Mine California Lead

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — This seacoast city, far from any ore deposits, nonetheless has a thriving lead "mine."

The miners are jail trustees who periodically dig up bullets fired into dirt bunkers behind targets on the police pistol club range. They recover between four and five tons of lead every four months.

The metal is melted down and molded into new slugs which are fed into an automatic reloader. The police department figures its "mine" saves $22 per hundred pounds of lead recovered.

Friction, produced along the banks of a river due to irregularities, causes the water there to flow more slowly than it does in the middle of the stream.

LESS TAME—SHE HOPES—Susan Bell, 4 of Minneapolis, Minn., serves as a human lunch-counter for the neighborhood's pet squirrel, who is far from being "nuts." He's found that by being friendly with the children he is given chocolate cookies to eat, which are a considerable improvement over his usual diet of acorns.

The tragic love of FANNY BRICE

As one of Broadway's biggest stars, she reached the peak of fame and fortune—only to squander it all on a man who stole her heart and made a mockery of her love. Here is the story of Fabulous Fanny, who sang and lived the tragic ballad "My Man." Get your copy of the new December Ladies' Home Journal and read it today!

Delbert Gilbert
Saved the baby's life

Then the baby sighed...

Clutching the limp body of her baby, the mother ran screaming from her home outside Midland. Two telephone men nearby rushed to her aid. Dennis Hildebrandt, 10 months old, had fallen into a tub of water.

Repairman Delbert Gilbert knew exactly what to do—prompt artificial respiration. He set to work with training born of telephone company first aid classes and service in the Army Medical Corps. His partner, lineman Robert Byron, held the tiny head gently in his hands, keeping the baby's mouth open. Gilbert applied the steady, rhythmic pressure.

Press... release... press... release...

People gathered. Motorists stopped. Someone telephoned for a doctor. The crowd pressed in. Voices urged: "Get him to a hospital quick!"

Gilbert worked his hands firmly to bring back the child's breathing... press... release... press... Minutes passed... five... seven... eight... The crowd demanded the baby be moved. Gilbert kept on.

For ten long, terrible minutes he continued the calm, steady, rhythmic pressure. Then the baby sighed...

Gilbert worked on as the baby's breathing came faintly but steadily. Then, on the way to the hospital, little Dennis whimpered and soon was crying healthily.

The American Legion awarded Delbert Gilbert a medal for saving the child's life as the community paid him tribute at a public ceremony. Michigan Bell awarded him the Vail Medal for outstanding public service.

Bugler, 81, Gives Taps On Dec. 7

WASHINGTON (AP)—An 81-year-old bugler will blow taps at Pearl Harbor Day services in Arlington National Cemetery on Sunday, Dec. 7.

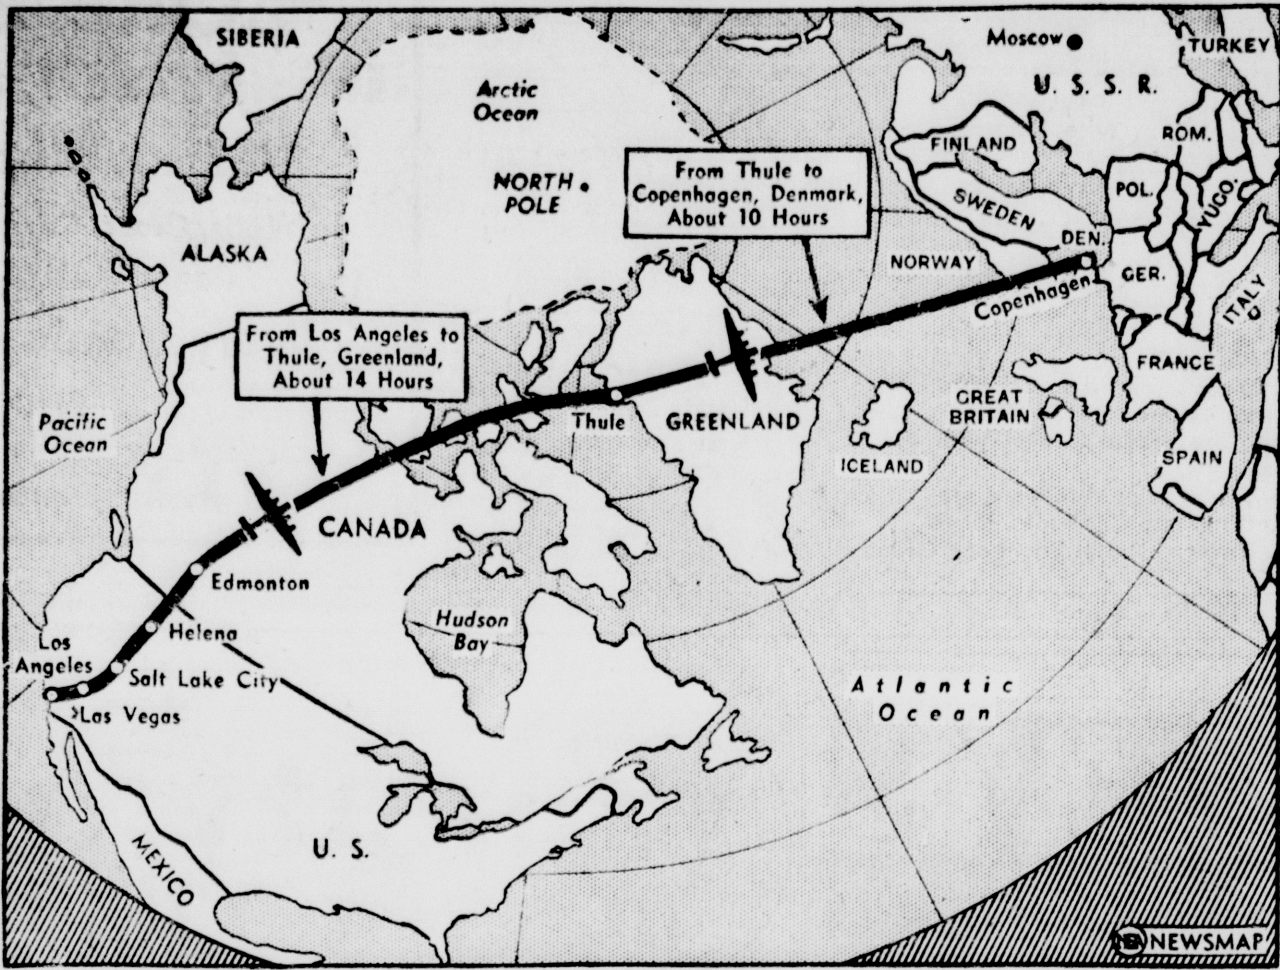

That will be the 11th anniversary of the sneak Japanese attack on the Hawaiian Naval base which plunged this nation into World War II.

The bugler, Frank Wirtz, is being sent here by fellow townsmen in Ionia, Mich., to take part in the ceremonies.

Wirtz has blown taps at military ceremonies and funeral services in the Ionia area for more than 60 years. Mayor Tony Balice of Ionia headed a drive for funds to send him here after Wirtz said he had had a life-long desire to serve as a bugler at Arlington Cemetery.

LIQUOR FOR LOGGERS
VANCOUVER, Canada (AP)—A brief presented by the International Woodworkers of America to the commission on sale of liquor in British Columbia asked that liquor be sold in canteens at logging camps. It said "loggers drink in excess because they are isolated for long periods from access to liquor."

If eggs costing 75 cents a dozen were sold by the pound, they would cost about 50 cents a pound.

TRAIL-BLAZING FLIGHT—The Newsmap above shows the route taken by a Scandinavian Airways System Viking airliner, on the first passenger flight over the "roof of the world," from Los Angeles to Copenhagen, Denmark. Flight time over the exploratory route is approximately 24 hours, and cuts nearly 1000 miles off the regular routes now used between Northern Europe and the Pacific Coast. In addition to its 35 passengers, the plane carried the first U. S. mail to be flown to Europe over the polar regions.

Mrs. Raymond Nedeau has gone to Ann Arbor and Flint for a visit with her uncle, Ed Gilmet. She also will visit a brother, Orville Mayo at Jonesville.

Kermit Sundling of Detroit is spending a week at the home of his father, Oscar Sundling, and is hunting in this area.

Joseph LaVigne was one of the first Isabella hunters to fill his license. He brought down a 9-point buck at 8:15 a. m. the opening day of season.

Dolly Moberg is spending the week in Iron Mountain with her sister, Patsy.

Per Forslund of White Pine spent the weekend at his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cushman of Lansing spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Cushman's parents, the senior Allen Shows, Mr. and Mrs. Snow accompanied them on their return to Lansing and will remain there for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Casper Reinwand and Eddie Reinwand of Farmington are spending the hunting season here and visiting with relatives.

Members and friends of the Congregational Church had a family night service at the hall Sunday. The speaker was the Rev. James H. Bell of Escanaba. The Ladies' Aid served refreshments after the service.

Trenary

Savola-Nordeen
TRENARY—Miss Nancy Vivian Savola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Savola, and Corporal Louis Peter Nordeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nordeen, were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony performed by Father Charles J. Reinhart at St. Anthony's Church, Gwinn.

The bride wore white flowered organza over taffeta and she carried red roses and white mums. Her attendants, Miss Eleanor Savola of Marquette and Miss Mary DeAmbrosio of Gwinn were pale green ensembles and carried roses in contrasting shades.

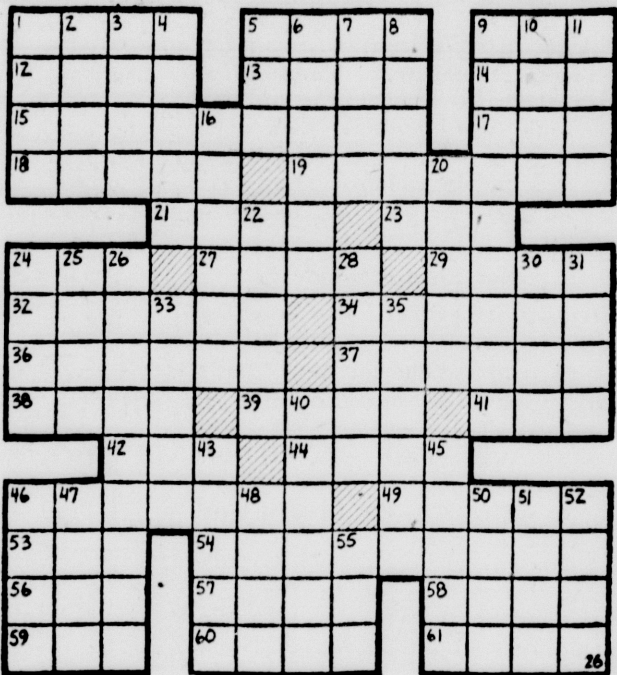

The bridegroom's attendants were Harlan Pelkie and John Nordeen.

The wedding dinner was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents and the reception was held at the Trenary Town Hall. The newlyweds will live in California where the bridegroom, who is with the United States Marines, is stationed at Camp Pendleton.

Beaver Controversy In Michigan Subject Of Study By Wayne U.

Inspecting a mounted beaver and a typical beaver-cut tree trunk and chips are Wayne University coeds Marilyn Hilborn of Grand Rapids (left) and Alice Mort of Lansing.

Much has been said and written—mostly untrue—about the remarkable feats of engineering performed by the Castor canadensis michiganensis—Michigan beaver. This rodent played an important part in the early exploration and settlement of North America including the State of Michigan.

Biology students at Wayne University in Detroit have been "busy as beavers" studying some curious facts about this animal. Although beaver spend much of their time in the water, they are strict vegetarians. Their diet consists of everything available in the way of twigs and bark. In Michigan, beaver are partial almost completely to the twigs, leaves and bark of the aspen.

Beaver skins were at one time exchanged as stable currency over half the continent. The long exploitation by fur trappers and traders, however, brought about the necessity for an extended closed season for Michigan beaver trappers in 1920.

There has been some controversy as to the desirability of this animal in Michigan's wildlife conservation program. Many pro-beaver advocates maintain that beaver do not destroy anything of value and that protecting them improves fishing, conserves water and generally aids in the wildlife and conservation program.

However, those with less sentiment for the "hard-working beaver" and a more factual point of view claim that this animal should not be protected because it causes the blockage of streams, hinders the migration of fish, floods out forests and shade trees in recreational areas, and destroys ornamental trees.

According to Dr. Charles W. Creaser, chairman of the Wayne University biology department, if the water is too cold for fish growth, a beaver pond will help in trout production. If the water is warm, a beaver dam may make it unfit for trout.

Fishing in the beaver dam regions is usually improved for about a year. Then when the otter and mink settle on the beaver pond, the fish are almost completely wiped out since they cannot migrate to other waters.

Under Michigan conditions, a beaver cuts an average of from 200 to 300 trees per year. Not being the keen foresters many people think they are, beaver waste a considerable proportion of their work by falling one tree into another or, what is more common, by failing to utilize the trees they cut. They destroy a lot of small growth as well as large timber. White birch, small Norway pine, small maple and tamarack are cut by beaver when in need of material for a dam. Second growth of cedar spruce, balsam and tamarack is prevented in the areas flooded by beaver.

Beaver dams located at the outlets of large lakes and streams conserve these waters only temporarily. When rainfall is low in the area of the small streams and lakes, the dammed-up water becomes dirty, discolored, and stagnant. Beaver then look elsewhere for more water.

The extent of the beaver's influence, good or bad, upon an area depends on the local conditions—the nature of the stream and surrounding environs. Dr. Creaser says.

Hungry Hornets Present Problem

ROME (P)—The big Oriental hornet is becoming a serious problem in little Israel. The November plant protection bulletin of the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations reports that this is because the hornet has an insatiable appetite.

It catches honey bees and often destroys 30 to 50 per cent of the bees in apiaries. It eats up ripe fruit. Dates can only be saved by covering them with paper bags. Hungry hornets even gnaw the bark of young fruit trees so badly that some of them die.

The only poison bait so far that has proved highly successful is poisoned meat. With Israel's limited meat supply, this costs too much.

Garden

GARDEN—Marvin Hubert of Sparta, Mich., was a guest at the Norval Farley home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Farley and daughters Beth and Sue of Detroit arrived Sunday at the Joseph Farley home to spend a week.

Mrs. Wesley Horning, Mrs. Ossie Hazen, daughter Carole, Mrs. Bora Lester and Mrs. Edith Heafield attended a meeting for officers of the Congregational churches of the Delta Parish at Isabella Sunday night.

Frank Burton is critically ill at the Edmund Mercier home.

Mrs. Emma Winter and nephew Carlton Gentz of Oshkosh, Wis., spent the weekend at the Leroy Winter home. When they left Sunday they were accompanied by Mrs. Charles Winter as far as Gladstone where she went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Thompson.

Hal and Barry Goff of South Haven spent the weekend at Kate's Bay with their father, Harold Goff.

Mitchell Fulsher and party of hunters returned to Saginaw Saturday after spending a week at his cabin at Garden Junction.

John Boudreau of Adrian hunted from the Boudreau cabin during the weekend.

Alan and Roland Dotsch of Alpena came Sunday for a few days of hunting at the Boudreau camp.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dotsch and daughter Mary Jane of Alpena arrived Monday to spend a week at the Ulysses Maynard home.

Otto Stelow who lives with his stepdaughter, Mrs. Harry Lamkey, was taken by ambulance Sunday morning to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital following a stroke.

Little Rock's Record Spoiled On 356th Day

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P)—Little Rock's drive for 365 days without a traffic fatality was shattered last night when a pedestrian was struck by a car and killed.

Houston S. Coney, 54-year-old employee of a basket factory here, was killed when hit by a car driven by William Reed, said Patrolman J. E. Walworth. It was the first fatality in the Arkansas capital in 356 days—since Dec. 4, 1951.

The city had planned a celebration, including a parade on Dec. 4 in the event the "deathless days" goal was reached. Mayor Pratt Remell said last night there had been no decision on whether the event will be called off.

The 356 days without a traffic fatality is a record for cities with populations between 100,000 and 120,000.

Little Girl Dying, Has Christmas Party

MANSFIELD, O. (P)—Little Linda Harmon does not know she may not live until Christmas.

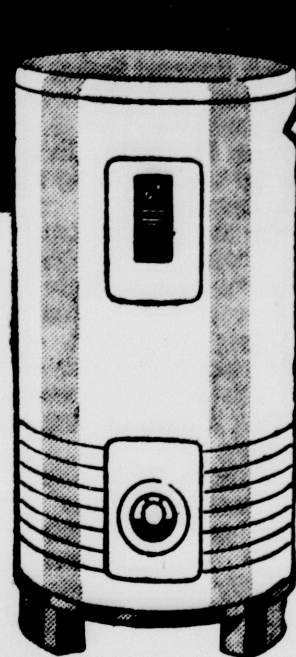

Doctors have told her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon, that Linda, 5, is suffering from an incurable kidney cancer.

To make up for a possible missed Yuletide, Linda's great-stepuncle arranged with fellow workers at the Westinghouse plant here to have a Christmas party Monday. They fixed a tree with all the trimmings and piled presents beneath it.

Linda suffered an attack of pains, which she gets periodically, but managed bravely to finish the festivities with a house crowded with friends and well-wishers.

Portion of Seal Sale Funds Will Go Toward Research

Important medical research awaits 1952 Christmas Seal purchases it was pointed out this week by the committee in charge of the annual drive.

County TB volunteers said a portion of every Delta seal sale purchase will be used for research in 1952. They joined in the hope of state and national officials that enough money will be on hand next year to push science "across the threshold to discovery of new ways to attack this disease."

A statement from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association was cited. According to the parent Christmas Seal agency, doctors hold high hopes for medical research next year.

The association said that discovery and development of isoniazid, the new TB drug brought out last spring, has quickened the tempo of research. But doctors were quoted as warning that while the new drug appears to be a potent addition to sanatorium TB treatment, "it is no cure-all and must be used cautiously."

Continuing, the association statement urged that "the search for improved tuberculosis drugs and a successful tuberculosis vaccine must be pressed with ever increasing vigor."

Such research was classed as a "slow, painstaking process, taking skill, knowledge and the keenest minds in the country."

The association concluded with emphasis on the fact that the research will take money and that "every Christmas Seal contributor plays an important role."

Six out of every 100 Delta County Christmas Seal dollars will be directed to the nation's tuberculosis research fund for 1953.

Teenagers Should Cultivate Local Lads, Not Soldiers

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.

When a father is strict and a mother lenient, what happens to teenage daughters? Here is an example of what such a combination of discipline does to a young person:

(Q) "How many nights a week should third and fourth year high school students be allowed out and what time limits? These girls are not truthful about where they go. Last summer they dated soldiers stationed at a nearby camp. Their father is extremely strict. He prefers that they go with hometown boys whose background he knows. His mother stands up for them and tries to give them a break. The older girl says she will quit school, go to work, and leave home as soon as she is 18. Her friends go steady with soldiers, changing boyfriends every few months. What is your opinion?"

(A) The parents should get together and work out some reasonable rules for their daughters. It is bad business for the father to be so strict that he makes the girls sneak their fun. It is equally bad for the mother to try to "give the girls a break." She unquestionably feels sorry for them and does not want them to miss fun other girls are having. But by so doing, she is encouraging their dishonesty.

What rules for going out, times to come home, etc., are made should be in keeping with what other parents in the community require. Otherwise it is unfair to their daughters.

The father is wise to want his daughters to go with boys whose backgrounds he knows. While

Winterproof The Small Fry

By DOROTHY ROE

Forecast: Snow, sleet, slush and sniffles.

That's the prospect facing families throughout most of the country soon, and the reason why wise mothers are laying in winter outfits for their small fry while stocks are complete.

This year the biggest news in children's winter clothing is Orlon, the "miracle" fabric that looks like wool but washes like cotton. Stores report an early rush for the washable Orlon coats, dresses, skirts and sweaters, many finding it hard to keep such items in stock.

The new Orlon fleece coats are warm and snug, look like wool fleece, but can be tossed into the family washing machine, dried quickly and worn with little or no pressing. This repressing-cleaning bills for the family with several children.

The rubber boot department also has news this fall in sturdy waterproof footwear that is easy to slip on, comes in gay colors and is designed to make children enjoy wearing their rubbers.

One of the newest all-rubber boots is designed for young space - ship fans, comes in gay blue and yellow with a rocket-ship motif on the sides. Another has warm fleece lining, comes in beige with red or blue trim and is easy to adjust with colored laces.

WASHABLE WINTER COATS . . . The two coats pictured are of Orlon fleece with matching hats and leggings for the younger set. All can be washed easily, dried quickly.

COLD CHASERS: . . . Here are new versions of rubber boots for children (L. to R.): "space boots" with rocket-ship motif; two-tone fleece-lined boots with colored laces; all-rubber boots in red and brown with adjustable strap so that snow pants can be tucked inside.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Dale A. Lancour, Gladstone, are the parents of a son born at St. Francis Hospital Nov. 25. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 11 ounces at birth.

A daughter, Debra Lee, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Plave, Wells, Nov. 24 at St. Francis Hospital. The baby's weight at birth was 7 pounds and 12 ounces.

there are, unquestionably, decent boys in the nearby camp, many young servicemen feel that, because they are away from home, there is no limit to their freedom. It takes a pretty experienced girl to handle such a situation and few high school girls are qualified.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

WHAT IS A BOY?

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood we find a delightful creature called a boy, boys come in assorted sizes but all have the same creed: To enjoy every minute of every day and to protest with noise when they are packed off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on or swinging from. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older brothers and sisters tolerate them and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on its face, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair, and the Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

A boy is a composite—with the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a locomotive, the lungs of a dictator and the enthusiasm of a fire cracker. He likes ice cream, knives, comic books, the boy across the street, water (in its natural habitat) large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday morning and fire engines. He is not much for Schools, books without pictures, company, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, adults or bedtime.

Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, two gumdrops, six cents, a sling shot, a chunk of unknown substance and a genuine super-sonic code ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature—you can lock him out of your workshop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your boss and your master—a freckled faced, pint sized bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with spirits low, he can mend them like new with the magic words, "Hi, Dad!" And after a pause—"Will you take me down town and pick out my Christmas present at The Morrison Shop?"

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES by Sue Donimus

WHEN someone saves money these days you don't call him a miser—you call him a magician. There's no magic to the way the Stephenson Lumber Company helps you save money, though. Not just with reasonable prices but also with real top quality materials which won't have to be replaced in a few years. When you build with help from Stephenson's you have supplies you can bank on . . . and a finished product that draws interest! Everyone likes the fine appearance of Stephenson's roofing, panning, and flooring. If you're stuffing that green stuff into an old sock, why not invest it at Stephenson's? They'll give new sock to any building project!

"CIVILIZATION is on the brink of disaster" scolded the boss, "and here you are loafing." "I'm not loafing," he answered. "I'm just doing my share to relieve war and tension!" . . . It's a wonderful idea, isn't it, girls? And how I'd like to help out in one of the lounging sets for o m Gartner's. Spanking new Tommiesets feature teal blue rayon pajamas with a Chinese neckline—set off by a quilted jacket of gold cloth paisley print. Scrumptious! Less money buys the fireman's red flannel jacket topping checked broadcloth p.j.s. Gay new quilted cotton robes come in red, green or blue prints. Three quarter sleeves held snug with a silver button. Bemberg sheer washable robes, quilted, are done up in delicate pastels. Gartner's have these very gifty ideas for relaxing!

A SALESMAN shouldn't be ashamed of his calling . . . but of his not calling. Especially if he's a Singer Sewing Machine salesman. He should call on my husband! Now that I've seen the new Slant Needle Singer Machine, I'm sold! This wonderful new Singer is a completely revolutionary idea; it's all new in appearance and performance. Count on this superior sewing machine company to do things up right. The slant needle machine needs no attachments for fashion stitches—it gives you easier stitching, better vision. Stop to see this amazing new machine at the Singer Sewing Center. You'll be singing my song "Santa, (Daddy) buy me one of those!"

DEAR SANTA, In case you're in the dark about what we need at our house . . . we're in the dark, too! But what will fix us up are a couple of the new Rembrandt lamps that have just been unpacked at the Petersen Furniture Shop. These will shed more than just light . . . they will add a note of distinction to any fortunate living room that holds them. Sturdy metal bases on both the floor and table lamps. Designed in either period or modern styles to blend with any decor. The smart shades come in a wide variety of colors. Rembrandt lamps are pretty as a picture. So, Santa, please take a look-see at these wonderful lamps at Petersen's, and if you can't turn out some just like them, you might pick up a couple for us. Hope that sheds a little light on the subject. Love, Sue.

CONGRESS, where many operations are directed by bloc heads. And now it's Operation Christmas Shopping for you. And unless you're a blockhead, it will begin at the Penny Store where they have their formal Christmas opening on Friday. There's a wide assortment of holiday merchandise you'll want to see. Milwaukee Cage Quint Gets Win

(By The Associated Press)

The Rochester Royals, co-leaders with Minneapolis in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, are developing a new scoring trio to go with their old reliable, Bob Davies, Bobby Wanzer and Arnie Risen.

Marion (Sleepy) Spears and Arnie Johnson shared high scoring honors with 19 points each as the Royals trounced the Baltimore Bullets Tuesday night, 106-89.

Jack Coleman, the third member of the new crew, chipped in with 14 points.

Wanzer also had a good night as he hit for 16 tallies. Davies and Risen scored only nine and eight points, respectively.

In the other contest, the Milwaukee Hawks snapped a six-game losing spell as they whipped the Indianapolis Olympians, 78-66.

The Hawks employed a deliberate, slow-down attack which enabled them to keep possession of the ball most of the game. George Ratkovicz, Milwaukee center, topped the scorers with 15 points. Leo Brumhorst led the Olympians with 14.

Ensign Thanksgiving Service on Thursday

The Thanksgiving service which Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom will conduct at the Anderson school at Ensign is to be on Thursday night, not Wednesday, as carried in yesterday's Press. Rev. Engstrom, former Gladstone pastor, now resides at Inkster, Mich., and is in the county on a deer hunting trip.

On the average, cigaret smokers throw away about one-quarter of each cigaret.

Council Meets Friday Night For Action On Water Bond Ordinance

Approval of a water department revenue bond ordinance is expected to take place at an adjourned meeting of the Manistique City Council scheduled for 8 p. m. Friday, Nov. 29.

The proposed ordinance, drafted by a firm of Detroit bond attorneys, was presented to the council at a regular meeting Monday night by William Hood, city attorney.

To permit more time to study the ordinance and to check any revisions required, councilmen decided to adjourn Monday's session until Friday evening.

Following its adoption the ordinance will become effective 10 days after its publication.

Within 30 days after publication of the ordinance, however, 10 percent of local electors can by petition require that the matter be submitted to a vote of the people.

The ordinance would establish necessary procedures for floating $250,000 in revenue bonds against the city water department to finance proposed rehabilitation of the water plant and distribution system.

In order to clear the way for the new bond issue, the council voted to pay off $3,000 in outstanding revenue bonds, floated several years ago to finance drilling of a deep well adjacent to the present pumping station and storage tank.

Although payment of $2,000 on the old issue is not due until March 1, 1953, and payment of the final $1,000 is not required until March 1, 1954, the city decided to make the full payment now, with interest to March 1, 1953.

Bondholders had agreed to waive interest charges from March 1, 1953, to March 1, 1954, on the final $1,000 if the city decided to make full payment now, the city attorney told councilmen.

Defer Action On Truck Bids

Action on purchasing a new city truck and a decision on advertising for bids on municipal oil requirements were deferred at a regular meeting of the Manistique City Council Monday night because of the absence of Councilman Walter Burns.

Councilmen studied bid tabulations prepared by City Manager H. W. Heideman but preferred to make the truck purchase when a full board was present. Three local auto dealers had submitted bids which were opened at a council session Nov. 10.

An analysis of city oil and gasoline purchases during the past year also was studied.

To Seek Plow Bids

A request for bids on a new side plow was approved by councilmen. Bids, which are to include a trade-in allowance on a V-plow now owned by the municipality, will be opened at the next regular board meeting.

Purchase of a new combination flasher light and siren for the city police car was approved. The present police flasher will be transferred to a city truck, the city manager reported.

Also approved was purchase of 250 feet of three-quarter inch hose for the county fire truck, which is operated by the city fire department. The county, it was indicated, will be billed by the city for the hose.

To Abandon Alley

A resolution abandoning a short alley at the Michigan Conservation Department equipment station on Main street was approved. Acquisition of the alley, unused by the city, was requested by the department. A public hearing on the proposed abandonment was set for Dec. 22.

Delinquent water bills amounting to over $200 were reported to the council by the city manager who said that efforts to collect them had proved futile. Councilmen instructed that owners of property where the delinquencies occurred should be contacted because under certain conditions the bills can be charged against the property.

To Install New Switchboard

Installation of a new switchboard in the Manistique exchange of the General Telephone Company of Michigan, initially scheduled for late in 1952, will not take place until early next year, it is announced by Hugh Kennedy, of Manistique, district manager.

It is expected that the new switchboard will be put into operation during April following its installation and testing. Testing will require about a month, Kennedy said.

An extensive program of improvements and changes in the central office and system, to start in December, will be done prior to installation, the district manager reported.

Convert Rural Phones

Included are conversion of approximately 175 rural telephones from magneto to battery, enlargement and remodeling of the central office space, and considerable rebuilding of the outside telephone system.

Closing and delivery date of the next telephone directory also will be delayed to permit incorporation of number changes necessitated by the change in central office equipment.

The firm has enlarged its office space in the Nelson building by renting front quarters previously used as a dental office. This space will be remodeled to house the new switchboard.

Various outside cables and wires also will be reconstructed so that all orders for service regrading can be accommodated, Kennedy said. The regrading involves changing two party lines to private lines and converting four party lines to two party connections.

Eliminates Cranking

The rural telephone conversion involves discontinuing the magneto type telephone which requires cranking in order to ring and its replacement with the common battery type which requires only that the receiver be lifted in order to ring central.

Officials of the telephone company at a Public Service Commission hearing here on June 27 had promised Manistique authorities that a new switchboard would be installed in 1952.

In a letter this week to the city, R. E. Putnam, of Muskegon, division manager, outlined reasons for the postponement and said that the new board would be put into service during April, barring unforeseen delays.

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary held its regular meeting Monday evening in the Legion club rooms.

During the evening plans for a joint Christmas party to be held in December were made. Toys to be repaired for the Christmas baskets were brought in by Mrs. E. J. Doyle.

Following the business meeting cards were played and prizes were given to Mrs. George Weber in canasta; Mrs. William Barker in 500; and Mrs. Earl Malloch Sr. in buncie. The special award was given to Mrs. Fred Homer.

Lunch was served later. The next meeting will be held Dec. 8.

LOWEST-WIDEST SPORTSTER — Johnny Campbell, 39, above, points with understandable pride to his co-creation, the "Cado" car. Named for Campbell and his partner, Elbert Dooley, the machine is only 36½ inches high, and is six feet wide, the lowest, widest sport car ever built, according to its inventors. The hand-made machine is powered by a 160-horsepower Olds engine, and is expected to have a top speed of about 140 miles per hour.

Obituary

GUNNAR FLODIN

Funeral services for Gunnar Flodin, who passed away Thursday at the Cloverland Lodge, were held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Zion Lutheran Church with the Rev. G. A. Herbert, pastor, officiating.

During the service Mrs. Carl Wedell sang "God Understands" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Harry Ahlstrom.

Palbearers were Alfred Erickson, Hago Erickson, Noel Hursh, Fred Hinkson, Rudolph Larson and Rueben Larson.

Burial took place in Fairview cemetery under the direction of the Kefauver and Jackson Funeral Home.

Mink Hunting Season Started In Siberia

LONDON — The Communist mink hunting season has started in Far East Siberia just north of the Manchurian border. Moscow radio reported today in a dispatch from the city of Vladivostok, on the Sea of Japan.

The valuable fur-bearing animals were brought to that region a few years ago, the broadcast said, and were successfully acclimated.

Discuss Need Of Rural Firemen

Need of organizing a corps of volunteer firemen in the townships in order to make effective the use of the county fire truck in combating rural blazes was discussed by members of the Manistique City Council at their regular meeting Monday night.

Councilman George Stephens, who is chairman of the Board of Supervisors, indicated the matter would be placed on the agenda of the next county board meeting.

The county truck, housed at the city fire hall and operated by city firemen, is sent on rural calls only with a driver. Two men or more are needed, however, to make use of the truck effectively, councilmen pointed out, but the city can spare only one man for such trips.

Volunteer fire fighters in the various townships, who would be notified of a fire in advance by telephone, would by their presence at a rural blaze make fighting a fire effective, councilmen said.

The need of a portable pump to go with the county truck also was emphasized by councilmen. The city fire department has

Speeding and Double Parking Discussed By Council Monday

More rigid enforcement of city traffic regulations, particularly as they relate to speeding and double parking, was discussed briefly by members of the City Council Monday night.

Excessive speeds traveled by Canadian auto transports through the city in particular aroused the ire of councilmen.

Council members indicated that a recent rash of speeding and double parking in the eastside business district might be a result of the current deer hunting season, with numerous visiting cars in the area.

operated a county truck, along with city-owned equipment, since 1928, it was reported.

Fire Victims Need Clothes

The Schoolcraft County Chapter of the American Red Cross through its home service chairman, Mrs. Walter Busch, yesterday issued an appeal for clothing and home furnishings for the Earl Tufnell family whose home was burned last Thursday.

Particularly needed, Mrs. Busch said, was clothing for children of the following ages: Girls 4, 5 and 12 years and boys 6 and 8 years.

The Tufnell family, composed of parents and five children, lost all of its possessions in a fire which gutted the interior of their State Road home.

The Tufnells are residing temporarily at the Van Anderson residence, 318 Schoolcraft Ave. Persons having articles of clothing or household furnishings they desire to contribute are requested to call the Van Andersons, telephone No. 519-J.

Two Fined For Use Of Artificial Light In Hiawatha District

Hubert Powell, of Danville, Ill., and A. L. Tabor, of Benton Harbor, paid fines of $20 and costs of $7.50 each in Manistique justice court yesterday morning on a charge of attempting to hunt deer with an artificial light.

They were arrested Monday in Hiawatha township by Conservation Officer Ernest Derwin, of Manistique.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks for the kindness and sympathy rendered us at the time of our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and father, Gunnar Flodin. Especially are we grateful to those who served as pallbearers, furnished their cars, sent flowers and church memorial offerings, and to all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

Signed:
Mrs. Gunnar Flodin and family

Braves Catch Fire In Second Half, Defeat Bark River By 52-43

GLADSTONE—After trailing by a single point at the end of the first half, Gladstone high school cagers rallied to outscore Bark River-Harris in both the third and fourth quarters and gain a 52-43 decision in the curtain raiser on the basketball season here last evening.

Coach Don Pfotenauer's reserve squad walloped the Bronco B's by a score of 69 to 22 despite his efforts to keep the count down.

In the main go, the B's took a 13-9 advantage in the first quarter but the determined Braves came back to outscore the Braves, 14 to 9 and led 23-22 at halftime.

The Braves forged to the front in the second half with a 14-8 third period and a 16-12 fourth, and that was the ball game.

Dick Douglas, Bark River's smooth-working guard, took scoring honors for the evening with 15 points. Tom Moreau of the Braves had 14. Dave Kwarciany, Bronco center, got 11 before leaving the game on fouls, while lanky Jerry Norick got 10. Both Martin

Becker and Norbert Butler had nine each.

The Braves next game is on Friday, Dec. 5 when they entertain the St. Joseph Parochials.

Redskins Top Channing 60-44 For First Win

HERMANVILLE — The Redskins got up a full head of steam here last night to whip Channing 60-44 for their first cage victory of the season.

Forward Dennis Schultz fired 21 points through the nets to lead the Hermansville attack. The Redskins broke fast to pull ahead 18-7 at the end of the first period.

At halftime the Redskins had a 35-20 lead and they coasted to the win playing Channing on even terms in the second half. Ten Redskins saw action in the contest and all but one broke into the scoring column.

In the preliminary game the Hermansville Bee team measured Daggett 55-34.

Honor Spartans On All-Catholic Team

CHICAGO (P)—Don McAuliffe and Frank Kush of Michigan State and Dick O'Shaughnessy of Michigan have been chosen on the All-Catholic collegiate football team by Extension magazine.

The team: Ends—Curren, Dayton, and Flowers; Purdue; tackles—Mordzewski, Maryland, and Mirch, Santa Clara; guards—O'Brien, Wisconsin, and Kush, Michigan State; center—O'Shaughnessy, Michigan; quarterback—Filipski, Villanova; halfbacks—Giel, Minnesota, and Lattner, Notre Dame; fullback—McAuliffe, Michigan State.

Michigan Tech Drops Opening Cage Clash

HOUGHTON (P)—Michigan Tech dropped its opening basketball game of the 1952 season by an 84-75 margin here last night to Central State Teachers from Stevens Point, Wis. The Teachers led all the way and held a 46-32 halftime edge.

Green Bay Packers At Detroit In NFL Clash

DETROIT (P)—The Detroit Lions, crippled by injuries, tangle with the Green Bay Packers tomorrow in what has become Detroit's annual Thanksgiving day football game.

The game is expected to attract some 45,000 fans and will be televised over the Dumont network to 47 stations.

Last year the Lions gathered in a mealy 32-17 win over the Packers in the holiday tilt.

This year's menu promises no such fare for Coach Buddy Parker.

Tied For Lead

Detroit and Green Bay are currently tied with Los Angeles and San Francisco for the national conference leadership of the National Professional league. A loss for either team could mean elimination from the title picture.

The Packers will arrive in Briggs Stadium strengthened by two rookie tackles who are returning from the hospital list. They are 230-pound Tom Johnson, former University of Michigan star, and Dick Logan, a 225 pounder from Ohio State.

Green Bay ranks as one of the most "made over" teams in the league. In the past year they have obtained seven players from other clubs and picked up a dozen rookies.

Parker, with one win over the Packers this year to his credit, has one big worry in the rematch. The Lion mentor needs a solution to his end positions. The 1952 campaign has riddled Parker's flankers with injuries. In the second game of the season, Pat Summerville suffered a broken arm. Big Leon Hart also sustained an injury which has reduced his effectiveness throughout the 1952 campaign. A pulled muscle has slowed up Cloyce Box and Jim Doran missed last Sunday's game against the Chicago Bears with an injured leg.

"We just about ran out of ends against the Bears," he said, "and I'm not sure the situation will be better against the Packers."

In This Corner With Ray Crandall

Friends in Escanaba may have noticed the recent picture of Don Bonamer, former Escanaba youth, in the Milwaukee Journal sports section. Bonamer completed the season at Oconowoc with a record 140 points scored on the gridiron. Don was presented with the first Al Ness baseball trophy here four years ago.

There are a lot of Michigan football fans in this neck of the woods, but one Escanaban found something to cheer about in Ohio State's 27-7 victory over the Wolverines last Saturday. Dr. M. H. Garrard waited eight years for his Alma Mater to topple Michigan. Dr. Garrard was a student at Columbus when the Harmon-Evashevski combine was running roughshod over the Buckeyes. His only regret is that deer-hunting season prevented him from attending the homecoming victory last Saturday.

Commenting on the five Escanaba gridders who performed for his Marquette Northern football team this past season, Coach C. V. "Red" Money says: "We can use more athletes like them. All of these boys turned in fine seasons at Northern. Another thing, all are above-average students and we don't have to worry about probation with them." The players concerned are Axel Anderson, Paul Baldwin, John Beaumier, Bob St. Martin and Jim Hinn.

Like Escanaba, Ironwood is operating with a new basketball coach this season. John Krznarich succeeds Sylvester Goedde at the Red Devil helm. But unlike Escanaba, Coach Krznarich has five lettersmen back in the fold this season. The Red Devils do not meet Escanaba in the regular season this year.

Trojans Host To Broncos Tonight, Seek Second Win

The St. Joe Trojans, fresh from a 68-41 opening win over Escanaba, take to their home court tonight seeking their second win of the new season over Bark River's Broncos.

Coach Tom St. Germain today gave the nod to Jim Zimmerman, clever guard, for a starting position along with John Martinec, Dick Cass, Jim Gravelle and Bob Sendenburgh. In the opening win Zimmerman scored 11 points in reserve action.

Also available for action tonight will be Jerry McDonough, David Hinn, Bill Maycunich, Dick Bryson, Dan Marsick and Tom Millington.

Coach Stan Wiinikainen's Broncos copied an opening win over Hermansville and have been turned back in two successive starts against Perkins and Gladstone.

Bark River starters will be Jim Greenwood and Jim LaVigne at forwards, Dave Kwarciany at center, Harold Charboneau and Dick Douglas at guards.

For the second consecutive game, the Bonifas gym is expected to be packed with spectators. The game between Bark River and St. Joe annually draws a heavy attendance.

Reserved seat tickets went on sale today and will also be available at the ticket office this evening. Most of the downstairs seating capacity is reserved.

The Trojans, who figure to be one of the strong Class C teams in the Upper Peninsula this season, are bolstered by

Navy Tackle Will Play Against Army

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (P)—Don Fullam first string tackle for Navy, will be available Saturday when the Middies meet Army in football under a decision by Secretary of Navy Dan Kimball.

Kimball directed that the 21-year-old Bronxville gridders should be given maximum punishment "short of discharge" for a breach of the academy's honor code.

Fullam's offense was not made public, but it is understood unofficially that he dropped out of a marching formation and at first denied doing so. It was not revealed what his punishment would be.

Valparaiso Cagers Post 104-68 Win

VALPARAISO, Ind. (P)—Valparaiso's fast moving Crusaders opened their 1952-53 basketball season here last night with a 104-68 romp over Hope College.

The 104 point total was a new record for the Valparaiso gym.

Don Bielke, veteran six foot eight inch center, paced the winners with 25 points.

ANN ARBOR (P)—Michigan's basketball varsity defeated the Freshman squad 81-70 in a scrimmage here last night, but Freshman Jim Barrons, a six-footer from Chicago, stole the scoring show with 27 points.

Notre Dame Hits NCAA TV Policy

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (P)—For a time Penn was the only vocal dissenter to the National Collegiate Athletic Association's controlled television program but today the Quakers have an ally.

It's the University of Notre Dame, one of the major colleges that stands to lose plenty if it abides by the "Game of the Week" edict of the NCAA. The Irish have stuck by the rules, but the rumblings in South Bend are becoming louder and louder.

"I really don't know what we'll do if they keep this up," said the Rev. Edmund Joyce, executive vice-president of Notre Dame, today before heading back for his school after appearing on a television program here.

"We don't go along with the premise of the NCAA that televising college games hurts attendance. We have yet to be shown convincing figures. They thought radio would hurt, but it built up the attendance. We think television will do the same."

ESCANABA ATHLETES had a lot to do with the successful football season at Northern Michigan College of Education in Marquette. The Northern Wildcats lost only one game this fall. In the squad picture above at the far left (41) is Bob St. Martin, freshman tackle on both the offensive and defensive platoons. No. 30 in front row is John Beaumier, senior who earned his second letter this season as an offensive guard. Axel Anderson, No. 21 in front row, earned his third varsity letter as a junior, seeing offensive end and defensive halfback. Anderson also has letters in basketball and track. At the far right Jim Hinn (32) earned his first letter as a sophomore seeing action at tackle with the offensive platoon. Paul Baldwin, No. 22 in back row, was the No. 1 offensive quarterback, handling all the passing and place-kicking. He was the team's high scorer.

Trojans May Need All Their Tricks

Irish Eye Another Upset

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Southern California's Trojans may have to open up their full bag of tricks against Notre Dame Saturday — if they expect to keep their record unblemished for their Rose Bowl engagement New Year's Day.

That probability makes the game a scouting paradise for the coaching staff of Wisconsin's Badgers, the Trojans' Rose Bowl opponent. The game Saturday is a sellout and both schools have requested that it be televised. The NCAA television committee is studying the request and has promised an answer. The NCAA's television game of the week Saturday is the Army-Navy contest at Philadelphia.

Nine In Row
The Pacific Coast Conference champions have won nine in a row and haven't been beaten since they last faced the Irish in Los Angeles in the 1951 finals, when Notre Dame won a 19-12 victory. The Irish, ranked No. 7 in the current AP poll and one of the nation's upset kings, just might do it again.

Ralph Guglielmi, who as a freshman quarterback last year sparked the Irish to victory over the Men of Troy, is ready for another try. His passing arm will be aided by a running attack which has averaged 206 yards per game, paced by halfback Johnny Lattner and fullback Neil Worden.

Southern California's fine record has been compiled largely on a great defensive unit which has been responsible, directly or indirectly, for 141 points. That's more than the 106 points tallied by the offensive crew.

Great Defense
Directly the defensive unit tallied 71 points, scored on three punt returns, seven pass interceptions, and a safety. Indirectly it has accounted for 70 more on five fumble recoveries, three pass interceptions, two punt returns and a short punt in which the kicker was rushed—all of which led to scores.

Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame has been ill but was expected to return to active coaching today. He personally scouted the Trojans, via television, from his sickbed Saturday as the Coast champs sewed up the crown by beating UCLA, 14-12.

Southern California has been well scouted by official Big Ten representatives who saw the Trojans beat UCLA. However, Coach Ivy Williamson and his staff members of the Badgers can scout them personally in the Irish game.

Texas Favored Over Texas A-M

NEW YORK (AP)—College football's Thanksgiving Day menu serves up mostly traditional games.

The top games of the slim Thursday card pit Cornell against Pennsylvania at Philadelphia and Texas A & M against Texas' cotton bowl bound Southwest Conference champions.

Penn has a lot at stake in its traditional battle with Cornell. A victory will assure Coach George Munger's squad the Ivy League championship and also will enable Penn to finish over the .500 mark. No Penn team has finished below .500 since Munger took over in 1938. Penn has won three games and lost none in Ivy League play.

Texas figures to defeat Texas A & M at Austin. Texas sports a 7-2 over-all mark and a 5-0 record in conference play. The Aggies have won only one league game and three all told.

The Skyline Conference can also be decided Thursday when Utah and Utah State clash at Salt Lake City. Utah leads the circuit with a 4-0 record and can wrap it up by winning over State.

Other games Thursday include Miami (Ohio) vs. Cincinnati at Cincinnati; Santa Clara vs. San Jose State at San Jose, Calif.; Colgate vs. Brown at Providence, R. I.; VPI vs. VMI at Roanoke, Va.; and Wyoming vs. Denver at Denver.

Heisman Memorial Trophy Awarded To Billy Vessels

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Vessels, senior halfback of the powerful Oklahoma Sooners, won the Heisman Memorial Trophy.

Vessels won the trophy, awarded annually since 1935 by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York to the "outstanding college football player in the country," in a landslide.

The Sooners back, who gained honorable mention on The Associated Press' 1950 All-America team, gained 525 points from the 1,222 registered electors from coast to coast. Jack Scarbath, quarterback of Maryland, finished second with 367 points and Paul Giel of Minnesota, third with 329. Giel turned down a big bonus from an unnamed major league baseball club Tuesday in order to complete his education.

"I can't believe it. You're joking," Vessels gasped when informed at Oklahoma City that he had won the award.

"Much of the credit goes to Eddie Crowder (quarterback)—I don't see how they could ignore him and Buck McPhail, whose blocks shake him loose for Teds. Of course, I owe more to Coach (Bud) Wilkinson than anybody else."

Vessels, with one game remaining, is second in the nation in rushing. Vessels, 21, had rushed 960 yards in 142 carries and has scored 10 touchdowns. The Sooners, sparked by Vessels, won the conference championship for the fifth straight year and have lost only once in nine games, a 27-21 upset at the hands of Notre Dame.

Wolverine Freshmen Better Than Average

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—With 19 key seniors scheduled to graduate from Michigan's football forces, attention here has turned to the Wolverine freshman squad and the prospects for 1953.

little better than average," prospects are dim that the frosh squad can entirely make up for the loss of such vital cogs as quarterback Ted Topor, first string ends Lowell Perry and Capt. Merritt Green and the host of others.

Chief interest is centered in Louis Baldacci, a 200-pounder from Akron, O., who is regarded as a possible replacement for Topor.

The big Ohioan kicks and passes with proficiency and has shown promise as a linebacker, a department in which Michigan loses its key operators, Roger Zatkoff and Laurie Le Claire.

A pair of good-looking ends raise hopes in that department. Jones, a 190-pound six-foot, two-inch, and Gerald Williams, at six-feet and 185 pounds, are rated tops. Both are from Flint.

In addition, Weber singles out a pair of halfbacks, George Corey, of Baden, Pa., and Tom Hendricks of Detroit, as promising varsity caliber players. Corey, who was hurt during freshman drills, is "the wingback type," according to Weber and has "speed to burn."

Hendricks, also a speed-boy, is a prime left half candidate, particularly if his passing improves.

Weber also has a pair of fine tackle prospects in 205-pound Chuck Krahnke, Charlevoix, and John Morrow, Jr., a 210-pounder from Ann Arbor. Among the guard candidates are 180-pound Wilbur Brown, Toledo, O.; Jim Fox 185 pounds, Saginaw; and Jim McCarty, of Toledo, O.

Other promising backs are Earle Johnson, Jr., brother of Michigan's prime tackle, of 1949-50-51, from Muskegon Heights and a pair of quarterback possibilities, Gordon Barnes, Owosso and Fred Driver, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

In all, Weber awarded numericals to 49 members of the freshman squad, including 26 backs, eight ends, seven tackles, six guards and two centers.

"All of them have yet to make a varsity block," Weber warned. "But there's promise in the squad. I'd say the group is just a little better than average."

Navy, Notre Dame Picked To Win Saturday Contests

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—Making the final college football picks of the season while surrounded by turkey feathers. The feathers effectively hide last week's record of 30 correct and eight incorrect choices for an average of .790.

Navy over Army: The Cadets are vastly improved over last year. In fact they are much better than the Army team which started the present season. However, Navy's defensive unit is the best to represent the sailors in recent years—and you can't lose if you can keep the other team from scoring. This game is your TV tidbit Saturday afternoon.

Notre Dame over Southern California Saturday: Figuring that the Trojans were at their best last Saturday when they got by UCLA and gained the Rose Bowl assignment. Also, the Irish apparently have cured their fumbling habits.

Pennsylvania over Cornell Thursday: The Quakers need this decision to keep Coach George Munger from having the first losing season in his long stay at Pennsylvania.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt Saturday: It is Vanderbilt's turn to win this traditional contest but the Vols' tie with Kentucky last Saturday has awakened the team.

Texas over Texas Tech Thursday: Only Notre Dame and LSU have been able to handle the Longhorns.

Georgia Tech over Georgia Saturday: All of Tech's cripples have regained their health for this meeting.

Holy Cross over Boston College

Colgate over Brown, Miami over Cincinnati, New Mexico over Wichita, San Jose state over Santa Clara, Utah over Utah State, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech, Wyoming over Denver.

Friday Night
Miami over North Carolina, Mississippi Southern over Stetson.

Saturday
East: Fordham over New York University.

South: Alabama over Auburn, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Wake Forest over South Carolina, Tulane over LSU, Virginia over William and Mary.

Midwest: Houston over Detroit, Oklahoma over Oklahoma A & M, Southwest: Tulsa over Texas Tech, Southern Methodist over TUC.

Far West: Brigham Young over Tempe State, Colorado over Colorado A & M, College of Pacific over Marquette, Washington over Washington State.

Valencic Still Leads In Smear

Andrew Valencic's quartet still sets the pace in the Holy Name smear tournament with Roy LaCosse's team in second place, 20 points back. Third is Andy Vargo just one point back of LaCosse.

High school Monday evening was made by Al Willette who had 86, just four points off perfect, while low as made by Martin Cassells who got only 22 points and dropped from 4th to 10th in the standings.

Breaks Deer Law 2nd Time, Given 30 Days

Clarence Weiks of Ogonitz was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail yesterday when he pleaded guilty before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg to a charge of hunting deer when he had been denied a license to hunt because of a previous deer law violation.

Justice Sohlberg did not set any alternative sentence. Weiks was arrested about two weeks before the opening of deer season by Conservation Officer Earl Kaiser for a violation of the deer laws and at that time admitted the charge in Justice O. C. Estenson's court and paid a portion of his fine and made arrangements to pay the balance within a four-month period.

Monday Officer Kaiser caught him out hunting without the benefit of license.

Harry Borman, Escanaba, paid a fine of $5 and costs of $7.80 when he was found in the woods with a shotgun and buckshot without a deer license and in the company of several regularly licensed deer hunters. A dog was with the group but ownership of the animal was denied.

The case of Felix Johnson, Danforth, charged with having a loaded gun in an auto, was dismissed in Sohlberg's court when it was found that the alleged violation took place in Menominee county and Conservation authorities are initiating action in Menominee.

Four Injured In Collision of Cars

Four persons received minor injuries when an auto in which they were riding was involved in a collision at Minnesota and 8th Tuesday afternoon about 3:45.

The autos involved were driven by Gary Miljour of Route 1, Rock, and Louise Baldwin of Gladstone. Suffering minor injuries were Mrs. Walter Baldwin, 71, 613 Wisconsin avenue, Mrs. T. W. Robertson, 39, city, and Jeanine Baldwin 55 and Sharon Robertson 4.

All were treated at the office of a local physician.

City police investigated the accident.

Oriental Immigrants To Israel Arrive With Small-Scale Harem

By SIGISMUND GOLDSTEIN
TEL-AVIV, Israel—(NEA)—The new nation of Israel, formed of people from many lands, has found an unwelcome custom smuggled in with some of its immigrants. That's the custom of bigamy and even polygamy.

As waves of Jews from Yemen, Morocco, Libya and other Oriental countries poured into Israel, authorities noted more and more instances of men with two wives and sometimes junior-grade harems. In the lands of their origin, it was natural and right to have more than one wife.

But Israel is a country where Eastern traditions clash with Western ideas. The government is working to uproot the centuries-old custom which "the Bible does not prohibit" but the government does not want to countenance.

EASTERN TRADITIONS clash with Western ideas as Jews from Oriental countries pour into Israel immigrant camps like this, bringing with them two wives or even a small harem.

Wives. These women, brought here by ship or plane from places where the customs have not changed since Biblical times, have suddenly been thrust into modern world.

The freedom they found around them awakened them from their habits of subservience to men. They began to complain to police—old women complained of "brutality," younger women told of being "compelled" to marry an old man, some wanted "to go to school."

Social workers, working with these women, managed to dissolve some of the marriages.

"The trouble is," says one official, "that the bulk of bigamists and polygamists do not discriminate, but actually are loyal to all wives. In such cases, we simply can do nothing but wait until new ideas and new generations extinct the old custom."

The new law applies to all Israel citizens, including the Moslem community. Israel expects some day it will be the only monogamist country in the Middle East. But it will take time. There was even opposition to the new law in Parliament, where a Yeminite MP undertook to defend the institution of bigamy.

"It is no shame to have two wives at home," he argued. "What we consider immoral is to have one wife at home and a second wife elsewhere."

EHS Students Elect Officers

Class officers were elected by students of Escanaba Senior High School Monday afternoon, following school primaries Nov. 20.

Conrad Michael was elected senior class president, Paul Davidson, vice president, Geraldine Nichol, secretary, and Gerald Nichol, treasurer.

Juniors named Tom Gregoire president, George McFadden, vice president, Barbara Anderson, secretary, and Jeanne Livermore, treasurer.

Sophomore president for the coming year will be Geraldine Ambeau. Keith Moline is vice president, Nancy Christensen, secretary, and Mary Goodreau, treasurer.

The elections were conducted by the citizenship department of the student council under chairmanship of Betty Leiper.

NATURE RULES FARM

WOOSTER, O. (AP)—Nature still has the upper hand at Ohio's Agricultural Experiment Station here as agricultural scientists found out the other day.

They held a meeting to show the editors of city newspapers what they had been doing. But during the meeting a group of fruit experts had to leave. They said there were a lot of apples on the trees at the station and they had to be picked before they froze.
